Are you in need of an AV Expert?

We Care About the Details, at Live Wire Automation, we employ only detail-oriented and professional AV experts who are knowledgeable in each client's unique scope of work. No job is too small for our expert attention. We specialize in television mounting and control solutions. No project is impossible but for some, additional planning time is needed. Why would you choose us to work on your home, business or other property? One of the best questions a consumer can ask because we are not the only option around. Our clients can give you a view into our expertise. We work with service relationships and not a "single job" company. Read some of our reviews!
