ABOUT ANETA UPLIFTS

Aneta's mission is to provide superior program management services for digital inclusion programming. She aims to enhance client education and build capacity to empower communities. Aneta's vision is to uplift communities to a place where citizens are empowered, families thrive and compassion flows freely.

According to the National Skills Coalition, American jobs are undergoing massive technological transformation. Even entry-level workers are expected to use all manner of digital devices and equipment. From POS systems to smartphone apps, digital skills are required to operate and function effectively in the 21st century.

In our 21st century society, digital inclusion and equity is interconnected with all social issues. From homelessness to civic engagement, it is necessary for all citizens to have sufficient digital skills.

Digital skills are essential for effective outcomes in nonprofit programs as well as the promotion of entrepreneurship, micro-enterprises and small business development - specifically in black and brown communities. With societal shifts like the promotion of entrepreneurship - people from all walks of life are being encouraged to take their passions to the next level and start a business. However, in order to create and sustain a successful venture, business owners must have a digital footprint AND have basic to intermediate digital skills to monitor the direction of their business' digital life.

Aneta Thomas Lee is an altruistic forward thinking leader and a staunch advocate for community empowerment. She has worked with Google, Google Fiber, and the Nonprofit Technology Network (NTEN) as both a Fellow and champion for the cause of digital inclusion and equity.

Aneta currently serves as the Lead Digital Inclusion Specialist for the Rainbow PUSH Coalition – Silicon Valley and the FaithTech Connected Churches initiative. Aneta also serves as a Senior Training Specialist for Inspiredu (formerly PowerMyLearning Atlanta), and as an advisor for Build Justly.

As a social entrepreneur Aneta specializes in public speaking, digital literacy training, program development in digital inclusion, and instructional design.

Program Development

Aneta Uplifts, LLC is here to build productive and sustainable digital skills and literacy programs through 'Digital Inclusion Solutions' services. Aneta is available to build a new digital literacy program and/or integrate digital skills components into your existing programs. Aneta will assist your organization from the strategic planning and assessment stage to the implementation and execution stage. Aneta also provides ongoing technical assistance after your digital literacy program is up and running. Aneta is dedicated to making sure your program remains relevant and up-to-date with the ever-changing technology landscape.

Digital Literacy Training

Aneta Uplifts provides a "back to the basics" approach that gives learners of all ages:

- Foundational Digital Literacy knowledge
- The ability to more easily absorb new technology independently
- Digital tools for communication, and personal advancement

Do you have a computer lab but not a consistent instructor to provide training? Aneta can help. Do you have internet service and space but no computer equipment? She can bring the mobile lab to you. Do you have trainers but need relevant training materials? Aneta can provide "Train the Trainer" services. Aneta's instructors are experts in adult education techniques and adult learning styles. They are also experienced in adapting technical information into easy-to-learn, interactive learning modules. Aneta Uplifts provides basic to intermediate computer and digital skills training. Training is focused on providing digital skills for seniors, working citizens, or any adult needing to upscale.

Advocacy & Public Speaking

Aneta Thomas Lee is a passionate champion for all digital inclusion causes. Aneta is a 2021 Nonprofit Technology Conference (NTC) Speaker and an affiliate of the National Digital Inclusion Alliance. She has worked with the Urban League of Atlanta, and the City of Atlanta Department of Parks and Recreation to help advance Digital Literacy. Aneta also serves as an advisor for buildJUSTLY.org – a conglomerate of tech engineers dedicated to building tech products with diversity and inclusion included during conception as opposed to an afterthought.

Aneta is available to speak to your organization, at your conference, or on your panel about the social costs of the digital divide and on how to establish programming in unique environments. She can present in detail or highlight briefly the concept of digital equity and inclusion into the context of your company or organization. She is able to convey the benefits of embedding digital inclusion elements into your operations.

Aneta's dedication to closing the digital divide is expressed vividly and with passion.
