Happy Holidays y'all!!

ISSUE #17

December 2021

Hello SCIF, in this issue...

Last month we welcomed legendary inventor and Founder of Instapreneur, Global authority on product distribution, animal disaster evacuation specialist and DRTV rockstar Lindsey Brooks. Lindsey enjoys being an entrepreneur and encouraging others with great ideas and inventions. Always looking for great products and ideas to bring to market, it was as always amazing to hear Lindsey talk about her past experiences with mega As Seen on TV products like the Slap Chop to how to use NFTs to secure IP! https://youtu.be/rFWO_gSapX0

We are observing the Holidays, no zoom meeting tonight.

Inside we share a great source for getting things made in 3D. Next month we dive deeper into Manufacturing for Inventors.

SCIF is now setup to take donations!!

Thanks to Lexa Gandolfo for her fantastic work to set up a Donate page on our SCIF site! Check it out and thanks for y'all's support ☺ <https://southcarolinainventorsforum.org/donate>

The nomination of Kathi Vidal to be Director of the USPTO

December 1, 2021

Josh Malone
US Inventor

"The Senate Judiciary Committee held a hearing on Dec 1, 2021 to consider the nomination of Kathi Vidal to be Director of the USPTO. Inventors are concerned. Vidal's clients have filed a combined 2,381 challenges at the PTAB. She has been paid millions of dollars by Apple, Samsung, Microsoft, Cisco, Micron, Netflix, Dell, Roku, and HP. She is attorney-of-record in 14 pending cases at the PTAB, all on behalf of the infringer/petitioner. She is a litigator from Silicon Valley, a culture devoted to destabilizing the patent system out of fear of inventors with competing technologies.

The combination of the 2011 America Invents Act and the Supreme Court decision in Arthrex this past summer have vested near-total power for the USPTO Director to decide ownership of more than a trillion dollars worth of intellectual property. The legal structure is such that the Director can revoke any patent through the PTAB review system – directly, by informal procedures, or by influencing the patent invalidation judges. The official record will include a statement that "it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill to combine [this and that] prior art", but whether or not that analysis attaches to any given patent is a result of policy, pressure, and feelings shaped by the Director.

Vidal was included in a hearing with 4 other witnesses, so she got very few questions.

Due to the compressed hearing Grassley, Leahy, Tillis, and Klobuchar were the only Senators to put forth questions."

Read the rest of the article here: <https://usinventor.org/kathi-vidal-uspto-nomination/>

I was honored this week to be requested by Josh to contact Nikas, Katherine (Judiciary-Rep) with the office of Senator Lindsey Graham regarding the hearing today for the USPTO Director nomination. I stated, "This is an extremely powerful position, and this is an important opportunity for oversight and reform to address the unintended harms of the America Invents Act." and submitted a list of questions USI prepared. I asked "Will the Senator consider posing some of the attached questions to the nominee to see if she intends to mitigate PTAB harms to inventors?"

She replied " Thanks, Adrian. We will keep this in mind. Appreciate it."

IMHO this nomination is a repeat of President Obama bringing the past Head of IP for Google (Michelle K. Lee) to run the USPTO, a move to cement the interest of mega corps over independent inventors.

We'll keep y'all posted...

Massie Introduces Patent Reform Legislation

Washington, D.C., November 5, 2021

For Immediate Release

11/5/2021

Contact: massie.press@mail.house.gov

202-225-3465

Washington, D.C.- Representative Thomas Massie announces the introduction of patent reform legislation designed to restore to Americans a patent system "as the Constitution of the United States originally envisioned it." Massie's legislation, HR 5874, the "Restoring America's Leadership in Innovation Act of 2021" (RALIA), reverses several harmful changes to patent law that arose from Supreme Court rulings and the enactment of the Leahy-Smith "America Invents Act." Among the significant reforms contained in Massie's legislation is a return to the "first to invent" standard to ensure patent protection for America's inventors.

"The RALIA legislation restores to Americans a patent system as the Constitution of the United States originally envisioned it," said Congressman Massie. "In Article 1, Section 8 of the Constitution, the Founding Fathers gave Congress the authority to protect the discoveries of inventors. Specifically, they created a patent system to 'promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries.' Regrettably, Congress's 2011 enactment of the Leahy-Smith 'America Invents Act' has worked in concert with several Supreme Court decisions to erode this protection's strength and value."

"As the Constitution intends, RALIA restores patent protection to inventors by awarding patents on a 'first to invent' basis rather than the more recently adopted 'first to file' standard," Congressman Massie continued. "A return to a 'first to invent' patent protection system ensures that inventors and the investors who back them can be confident that their innovative work and ideas will be safeguarded. Patents should protect those who innovate, not those who win the race to the patent office."

In addition to restoring patent protections to a "first to invent" standard, RALIA contains other important reforms to the patent system. Notably, RALIA affirms that a patent secures private property rights, repeals administrative post-grant reviews, abolishes the Patent Trial and Appeal Board, and ends the automatic publication of patent applications unless a patent is granted.

Congressman Massie's RALIA legislation is supported by organizations including the American Business Defense Council, American Conservative Union, Americans for Limited Government/Americans for Limited Government Foundation, Conservatives for Property Rights, Eagle

Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund, Let Freedom Ring, 60 Plus, the Small Business Technology Council, U.S. Business & Industry Council, U.S. Inventor, and Vote America First. In offering their endorsement of the bill, the Eagle Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund wrote, "a wide range of reforms, such as those contained in the Restoring America's Leadership in Innovation Act, are required if the U.S. patent system is to secure private property rights, promote progress of science and useful arts, and ensure that America remains the world's innovation leader."

Original cosponsors of RALIA include Rep. Louie Gohmert (R-TX), Rep. Paul Gosar (R-AZ), and Rep. Tom McClintock (R-CA).

Public Funds for Tech Development

"3Phase SC Program Manager, Kyle Salazar, and South Carolina Research Authority SC Launch Director, Matt Bell, share how their funding companies help early-stage businesses get their ideas off the ground so they can make an impact on the world. They explain the key indicators of success and growth, including accurate market identification, that their companies require before awarding grant applicants with early stage or accelerated grants. For entrepreneurs trying to understand funding allocations, Kyle identifies the three phases of feasibility, product development and commercialization as they pertain to grants.

While angel investing and venture capital may get the spotlight, public funding can be an incredibly effective and fast source of capital for any entrepreneur, especially as a smaller business.

Kyle Salazar, Program Manager at 3PhaseSC, and Matt Bell, Director of SC Launch Program at South Carolina Research Authority - SCRA speak here on what it takes to secure grants from their respective programs, and what it means for a new business to pursue public funding."

The Loss of Inventor Rights – A Concise Description

For those new to the issue of inventors having lost the ability to stop large corporations from just taking valuable, patented technologies, here's a quick rundown:

1. Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB): The America Invents Act of 2011 (AIA) created an easier way to invalidate (revoke) an issued patent. The PTAB is an administrative court with no jury and much less due process than a real court. Rather than a lifetime-appointed judge, a PTAB trial typically has three attorneys who are called Administrative Patent Judges (APJs). Since inception, 84% of the patents that go through a PTAB process get fully or partially invalidated (partially usually means the parts of the patent that matter).

When you attempt to stop a large corporation from infringing your patent, they will try to use the PTAB to invalidate your patent. If you win one PTAB attack, you can still be pulled into additional ones by the same or other infringers. According to the AIPLA (American Institute of Patent Law Association), a reasonable PTAB defense costs $400,000 to $800,000. Historically, the typical inventor would hire an attorney on a contingency basis to fight an infringer (where the inventor doesn't pay much up front and the attorney gets a percentage of the verdict award or settlement amount). Today, it is extremely rare for an attorney to take any PTAB case on contingency.

2. Injunctive Relief (the ability to stop an infringer after you have won your case): The U.S. Supreme Court decided that it was in the “public interest” for a proven infringer to continue infringing because it could serve the market better than a startup (Ebay, 2006). As a result, even if you win your case, you will have to pass a “public interest” test before an injunction can be issued to stop the infringer. A startup vs an entrenched corporation will typically fail this test, so you can’t stop the infringer. You end up with a court-ordered royalty that you cannot negotiate, and the infringer keeps your invention and the market. This is often an impossible barrier for what would have been, until recently, the next great American disruptive startup.

3. Abstract Idea: The U.S. Supreme Court’s Alice decision (2014), put into law that an “abstract idea” cannot be patented, but did not define this term. The result is that a sharp attorney can often convince a judge, who may have little tech experience, that a patent should have not been issued. This argument is most often used for software related or medical diagnostics patents. The patents of many important, future technologies that are invalidated on this issue in America are valid and defendable in China and Europe, so that is where startup funding is going.

It is a privilege to be associating with 1 Million Cups and I suggest all UIA-CIO clubs follow suit and make friends with their local group to help their members share their dreams and connect.

ABOUT 1 MILLION CUPS

Based on the notion that entrepreneurs discover solutions and engage with their communities over a million cups of coffee, the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation developed 1 Million Cups in 2012—a free program designed to educate, engage and inspire entrepreneurs around the country. Through the power of volunteers, 1 Million Cups has grown to more than 160 communities.

As a program of the Kauffman Foundation, 1 Million Cups works with entrepreneurs, empowering them with the tools and resources to break down barriers that stand in the way of starting and growing their businesses. Mr. Kauffman believed it was a fundamental right for anyone who had a big idea to be able to bring it to life—and we're here to fulfill that mission.

ABOUT THE KAUFFMAN FOUNDATION

Founded by Ewing Marion Kauffman, the Foundation is driven to provide uncommon ways to create opportunities and connect people to the tools they need to achieve success, change their futures and give back to their communities. We believe that if you have an idea, you have a fundamental right to start a business to make it a reality.

We also believe that opportunity lies in the fields of education and entrepreneurship.

SBA is here to help inventors and innovators start business

For those inventors that get enough initial positive feedback on their idea to then decide to start a business, we are delighted to show and share how SBA can assist them in taking their ideas to that next level.

I am thrilled to introduce our new friend Valerie Torstenson, Outreach and Marketing Specialist, South Carolina District Office of the U.S. Small Business Administration has helped SCIF sign a Strategic Alliance Memorandum (SAM) that connects us to the SBA for assistance in getting loans for startups. Valerie will participate in our group meetings and share news, instructions and opportunities from the SBA.

We were delighted Valerie spoke to the UIA-CIO inaugural meeting to announce our new alliance! After the event Valerie commented: Thank you for affording me the opportunity to sit in! You are wonderful!!!!!!

Introducing SCIF and the UIA to the rest of SBA today via our internal newsletter.

Ms. Torstenson will supply contact information for the correct SBA Outreach and Marketing Specialist for each of the other nonprofit UIA-CIO members.

SBIR grants non-dilutive funds to startups

Some of you are working on ideas in areas supported by the government. As our friends at the SBA will point out "SBIR and STTR programs fund a diverse portfolio of startups and small businesses across technology areas and markets to stimulate technological innovation".

The non-dilutive funds are available from all Departments of the government that write solicitations annually. (Agriculture, Commerce, Defense, Education, Energy, Health and Human Services, Homeland Security, Housing and Urban Development, Interior, Labor, State, Transportation, Treasury, and Veterans Affairs)

I met with Rupak Doshi, Ph.D. CEO OmniSync Incorporated thru Launch Factory as an Advisor. OmniSync has a promotion that I think you will be interested in – it's a great opportunity for startups interested in non-dilutive funding. There is no upfront cost and very little work required - they provide the grant writer as part of the deal.

Hi Adrian,

Pleased to meet you and always very happy to assist a Launch Factory advisor in any way we can. Below are some follow-up actions from our discussion.

SCIF has a Gold Sponsor!

We are honored to announce the City of Columbia has become our first Gold Sponsor! This contribution is appreciated beyond its monetary amount in that it represents the great connection we have made and how the city supports our Vision statement: SCIF will contribute to South Carolina becoming known as an Innovation Hub here in the southeast. Economic development in the South Carolina region depends heavily on entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship depends heavily on creativity and invention. By assisting inventors in leveraging their intellectual property and becoming more entrepreneurial, SCIF will play an important role in furthering South Carolina's reputation as supporting startups, general creativity, launching quality businesses and creating good paying jobs. SCIF will become a recognized valued partner in South Carolina's economic re-development.

We thank Sergio Aparicio, the city of Columbia Economic Business Development Manager, for his efforts to help us talk to the right people, fill out the correct forms and persist to receive this sponsorship, thanks Sergio!

And thanks to Ryan Coleman, Director of Columbia Economic Development for agreeing that establishing more business is sustainable by encouraging inventors and innovators to become entrepreneurs.

Thanks again to the City of Columbia for setting an example how cities across America can support vets, minorities, really all of us striving to build better lives and live our dreams.
