Sunflower Seed Oil has anti-inflammatory properties that help lower skin redness and roughness. Sunflower seed oil is high in omega-6 fatty acid and vitamin E. Omega-6 acid helps decrease inflammation in the skin and enhances the development of new skin cells.

Coconut Oil may be linked to some potential benefits for skin, including reducing inflammation, keeping skin moisturized and helping heal wounds. The medium-chain fatty acids found in coconut oil also possess antimicrobial properties that can help treat acne and protect the skin from harmful bacteria.

Aloe Vera is an antibacterial and anti-inflammatory agent because of the presence of gibberellins and auxins. This helps reduce acne. It also contains polysaccharides that stimulate the growth of new cells. This speeds up the healing process and prevents scarring. Aloe has also been shown to treats wrinkles and fine lines.

Goat's Milk is rich in essential fatty acids and triglycerides. As with other milks, goat's milk contains lactic acid, which is an alpha hydroxy acid. It assists to gently slough off dead skin cells and helps to hydrate and brighten the skin.

Lemongrass Essential Oil has antibacterial properties, which makes it helpful for skin concerns.

Geranium Essential Oil The astringent properties of geranium essential oil help tighten the skin, which can help minimize the appearance of wrinkles. It also contains fatty acids, the nutrient needed to help build healthy skin cells.

May Chang Essential Oil has toning and refreshing qualities. Its astringent properties have a tightening and firming effect on the skin.

Green Tea fights skin cancer by promoting DNA repair. Green tea contains a powerful antioxidant called EGCG that fights DNA damage from UV rays to prevent skin cancer. The catechins in green tea reduce irritation, redness, and swelling.

Acerola Cherry aids collagen production because of it's high vitamin C content. Acerola acts as an astringent. The bioflavonoids found in acerola play a key part in delaying the signs of skin aging. It moisturizes, tones, firms and protects the skin from capillary fragility and sun damage.

Grape Seed Extract delivers vitamin E, which is a nutrient that concentrates in the membranes of skin cells and helps hold on to moisture.

St John's Wort has antioxidant, anti-inflammatory, anticancer, and antimicrobial activities. In addition, the hyperforin in St. John's wort stimulates growth and differentiation of keratinocytes, and hypericin can be used for selective treatment of non-melanoma skin cancer.