September - May

From the President's desk...

Dear Guild Members,

You and I need to talk. We are going to have elections in April and are looking for volunteers to fill most of the board seats (yes, including President and Newsletter Editor). Have you enjoyed our programs and workshops over the years? If the answer is "yes", please consider that it takes the work of dedicated board members and helpers to make this happen.

Have you ever volunteered in any capacity on behalf of the guild? If the answer is "no" please give yourself a nudge and tell yourself that it is time for you to help make sure that the guild continues in its educational capacity to offer programs and workshops.

Each board member slot comes with a set of tasks and responsibilities, but the work is not overwhelming and there will be helpers to support you. And the effort that goes into the organization of our events is highly rewarding. Also worth considering: you can put your "own spin" on your office, for example as Programs VP by finding speakers for subjects that interest you in particular.

I suspect that putting the newsletter together is probably one of the more involved offices, since it requires the monthly effort of populating the MOA with reports and messages received by the guild. Quite often some blank spots remain however and then I hunt the Internet for interesting tidbits to fill in the blanks, or maybe there are some photos sent by guild members (or posted on Facebook) that can be used. I am always glad when I receive items by guild members to include in the MOA because that makes the editor's life so much easier! Once the newsletter is finalized (and proofread) the editor distributes the digital version to the email list and also prints and mails out copies to the few remaining snail-mail recipients.

By the way, the reason why our newsletter looks better than other guilds' is (in my opinion anyway) because I am using a layout program (Adobe Indesign). Whoever is taking my spot will most likely not be able to use this program because it is quite expensive and has a learning curve. However, I'm working on transforming our newsletter template into a Word format so that anyone with word processing software can update the newsletter with new content. It shouldn't be much more difficult than updating an email. The drawback is that our newsletter will lose its "look", but on the other hand I've been the editor since 2013 so wouldn't you agree I deserve a break?

I have to admit that I find it a bit worrisome that the level of commitment of the general membership seems low, based on that we have not been able to fill the assistant spot for the Workshops VP since last year. I can't thank our current board enough for all the work they do and fully understand that they feel that they have "done their share". Please keep in mind that the guild will not be able to make another decade without volunteers, so why don't you come and "do your share", too.

See you at the meeting,

Caroline

Next Meeting:

The group's co-chairs are Judy Lukas (602-361-7339) for the months October - May and Paula Rudnick (814-769-1675) for the summer months.

THE DEADLINE OF THE EDUCATIONAL GRANT IS MARCH!!

Our guild offers an educational grant to a member who would like to explore a new skill or further develop a skill of a fiber related craft. You may use the grant award for workshop fees or materials. Submit a written application to any board member, outlining your area of study and how you will use the grant.

The only stipulation is that you will share your newly learned or improved skill with the membership at a monthly meeting the following year. This is a great opportunity for the participating member as well as the guild.

The recipient of the educational grant is chosen in MARCH (I keep getting that wrong - my apologies) so you have a little bit more time to consider your application.

CELEBRATING IRIS

A few guild members grasped the moment at the last meeting and celebrated Iris Dozer's 90th birthday by sharing their appreciation for Iris with the guild. I think Iris was a bit nervous about the whole thing at the beginning, but it was a very heartfelt occasion. Here is what Iris wrote to me afterwards:

My thanks to the membership for the many wonderful memories brought to mind at the last meeting. I wish I could have spoken to everyone who has touched my life. How lucky I am to be a member of this group of exceptional people. I have learned much, enjoyed much and appreciate the many good times I've had with you all.

Thank you, thank you all. And thanks to Lisa Takata for the great picture.
Iris

ADWSG Jewelry

Silver logo pins and earrings are available for purchase at the monthly meetings. The "sheep with the woven coat" pins are $20, and earrings are $40. See Elaine Rowles for availability.

AN AFTERNOON OF SPINNING, CONTINUED

At the last meeting, several people brought their spinning wheels and a good time was had. Since we have the room until 3 PM on the days when we meet, there is no reason why we couldn't do this after every guild meeting!

SEE AN ENTIRE NORTHERN IRELAND VILLAGE KNITTED OUT OF WOOL

An incredible yarn from Cloughmills, Country Antrim

By Natasha Frost - January 16, 2018/www.atlasobscura.com

The Main Street of Cloughmills, Northern Ireland, is lined with neat, two-story houses that flank a cluster of commerce—a local store, a butcher, a post office, even an Indian takeaway. This quiet village of just a couple thousand people, and five (five!) churches, has recently put itself on the map. But not just any old map. These establishments, and many of the town's other buildings, have been enshrined in wool by the village's ladies' crochet group, and publicly displayed in the town's Memorial Orange Hall.

Local resident May Aitcheson started the club six years ago. Now, it has 30-odd members, most of whom are retired. "I didn't realize it would keep going the way it's done," she told the BBC. In May of last year the members got together to begin work on the mammoth model of their village. They headed out first with cameras, and then began to craft the houses and other buildings, with six women in particular doing much of the work. They even created a few sites that no longer exist, including the old shirt factory where many of the members once worked. They finished the project in September.

Aitcheson had been inspired by a small model village she saw in Cushendall, a similarly sized place some 15 miles away, "but ours snowballed," she said. It's now too large to fit out of the doors of the hall, and will remain on display for as long as there are visitors to come and see it. In the meantime, Jim Witten from Cloughmills Community Action Team says, the project has brought the village a lot of attention, with community groups from across the country inspired by this marvel in wool, which has helped raise money for Macmillan Nurses' cancer support.

The group continues to get together weekly to "get the latest gossip," member Margaret Murphy said, though they're still waiting on their next big idea. "Maybe a model of Belfast, but we'd need lots of helpers for that one."

BRING YOUR OWN CUP

Thank you for bringing your own reusable cups or mugs and utensils to the meetings. The styrofoam cups are bad for the environment and the guild has to pay for them. Same goes for plastic forks.
