

MEET ANGELA HEYROTH

Angela Heyroth is a strategic talent advisor and organizational architect with more than 25 years of experience building and transforming talent systems inside complex enterprises. Throughout her corporate career, she led large-scale talent and culture initiatives across the full talent lifecycle, integrating strategy, structure, and leadership capability to drive measurable organizational performance.

Today, as Founder and Principal of TALENT CENTRIC DESIGNS, Angela partners with executive teams to design human-centered talent strategies that accelerate growth, strengthen engagement, and align organizational systems to enterprise goals. She is known for translating ambitious vision into scalable, operational reality.

Angela also serves on the faculty at the University of Denver, where she teaches talent management and organizational design in the Master's HR program. In addition, her thought leadership on employee experience, culture, and performance has been featured in more than 25 publications, she has been recognized as a LinkedIn Top Voice, and she is a frequent conference and keynote speaker. She holds an MBA and is a certified Gallup Strengths Coach.
