

MAKING WORKPLACES WORK BETTER

What if treating people well wasn't a tradeoff — but a performance advantage?

ABOUT ANGELA HEYROTH

With 25+ years of experience across the full talent lifecycle, including leadership roles in Fortune 500 organizations, Angela brings deep, lived experience to the work. She's also an adjunct faculty member in an HR graduate program, a LinkedIn Top Voice, and a frequent speaker and contributor on culture, employee experience, and talent strategy.

WHAT

Angela Heyroth partners with HR and business leaders to design, improve, and operationalize talent and culture systems that actually work in real workplaces. She helps organizations:

- Strengthen engagement without sacrificing results
- Turn culture into an operating system, not a side initiative
- Build internal HR capability that lasts beyond outside support

HOW

Talent, Employee Experience, & Organizational Design

- Designing and improving end-to-end talent, employee experiences, and org designs that drive engagement, growth, and performance.

Culture & Engagement Strategy

- Clarifying and operationalizing culture so it becomes a true driver of how work gets done, not a poster on a wall.

Strategic HR Advisory

- Providing experienced, real-world guidance to HR leaders navigating complexity, change, and competing priorities.

Facilitation & Speaking

- Translating ideas into action through workshops, keynotes, and learning experiences that stick.

WHO

HR and business leaders who believe people have inherent worth, and who want their talent and culture strategies to deliver meaningful, measurable results.

If your talent or culture strategies aren't delivering the performance you expect,
let's have a conversation about what could work better.
