

What Makes Lord of Life so Unique?

Our faith community does many things other churches do. Yet almost everyone who knows us says there is something different and unique about how we live our life together. We call it Character – how God calls us to live out Jesus' command to love God and others.

Here is how Lord of Life describes who we are and what it means. We are:

Accepting and Conferring – We accept others exactly as they are and value them – because that's what Jesus does.

Life-giving and Rejoicing – In everything we do, we seek to be life-givers. Joy comes from experiencing abundant life, no matter what's happening, that Jesus came to give us.

Grounded and Adaptable – We are grounded in our relationship with Jesus, open to where the Spirit leads and ready to adapt and take risks for the sake of the Kingdom of God.

Out-reaching and In-reaching – We are outer-directed, listening to the needs of others in the community and world, seeking to meet those needs. At the same time, we look inward and listen for the voice of God that transforms us and sends us out to be God's hands and feet.
