

Pictured here is the precious gold and jade bracelet (page 153) worn by Molly/Helen. This amulet was carried by Shri'Ani as a teenager from her Indian village when she left for Europe with her husband, Francois, in 1686. The legend in her family is that the amulet was once worn by the winged god Garuda and, upon seeing the beautiful child, placed it on her wrist. Garuda carries the wisdom of the eternal Akashi record to those worthy of truth and knowledge. The precious gift pursues Shri'Ani's soul across the centuries, continents and incarnations, always returning to her wrist and bestowing her with divine insight.

