

Pictured here is Professor Trish Lindsey Jaggers' white board on her office door at her university. Ladd met Jaggers while discussing his math-physics work with a mathematician at the university. Ladd knew she was the "Woman" whom he had "seen" in the DV's his entire life. He knew this would begin their sojourn together.

Soon after, he experienced another DV in which he "saw" her face pressing through the "number 4." He returned to her office door and drew the image he saw on the board. At a later meeting, Jaggers read "Sandcastles," and Ladd explained she was the Woman the story was dedicated to, the one who would identify the dates of the NYC attacks. He explained the "10 - 4" dream image was a "sign" which would provide proof to her. Jaggers explained that October 4th was, in fact, her birthday and that was the one in which she "pressed into" the 4th decade of her current incarnation. It was the moment for which Francois had waited 300 years—to reunite with his beloved Shri'Ani.
