About the Burial & Will Kit for Veterans

Why do you need a Family Information Guide?

Every year millions of dollars of insurance goes unclaimed! They have found that Americans insurance benefits are not being used for one of three reasons. Either your family does not know the location of your benefits, they do not know the name of the company that you have them through, or they do not know that you have coverage at all. The family information guide eliminates these reasons.

Why do you need Last Will & Testament?

Having a will is one of the most important things you can do for your family after you pass. By having a will, it can legally protect your children, spouse, and assets. It can also set forth your final wishes on how things should be handled after you pass. Most commonly, people have a will prepared to decide how to distribute their estate, who will take care of their child(ren), avoid a cumbersome probate process, make gifts and donations, and disinherit any individual who would might stand to inherit their estate and property.

Why do you need to know about your VA Burial Benefits?

Generally there is little to no veteran government benefits for your burial or cremation services. When something happens to a veteran, family members are left trying to figure out what is available to help with funeral and final expenses. Knowing the facts of the VA memorial and burial benefits, will allow your family to plan to supplement what is not covered through the VA.

What are the next steps?

First, complete each part of the Family Information Guide. Use a permanent pen for the sections that will always be the same for you and use a pencil to complete the sections that may change. Second, you will fill out the Last will and Testament worksheet. Finally review your options for interment or burial in a national cemetery or plan your final arrangements.
