MESSAGE FROM CANDIDATE JOHNSON

Crime rates have increased in the District of Columbia, causing fear and concern. The Metropolitan Police Department plans to mitigate crime by fast-tracking case closings, compensating victims, reducing police service areas, fostering collaboration between law enforcement agencies, demanding harsher consequences for violent offenders, empowering the police force, and engaging in transformative programming. I am committed to championing policies that respond to crime, predict and prevent it, and build upon community strength to reshape the narrative from one besieged by crime to one where every citizen can thrive safely.

OUR VISION

COMMUNITY

My commitment as your council member is absolute. I will champion policies that respond to crime and predict and prevent it. We will build upon the inner strength of our communities and reinforce our frontlines. Together, we will reshape our narrative—from a community besieged by crime to one where every citizen can thrive safely and confidently.
