HIKE: A Challenge Hike - Estrella MRP - Montezuma Peak - Sierra Estrella Wilderness (PCHC # 307).

REASON FOR CHALLENGE: This hike is best suited to experienced hikers familiar with off trail hiking and climbing over rough and unstable terrain.

DESCRIPTION: This hike is a 5.5 mile in and out hike with an elevation gain of 2900 feet. It is a rugged off trail hike to the top of Montezuma Peak, which at 4337 feet is the second highest point in the Estrella Mountain Range (an unnamed peak to the northwest tops out at 4512 feet). There are likely many routes one could take to the summit, none of which are particularly userfriendly. From the car park hike north through the desert along the base of the Estrella Range a short distance towards two parallel ridgelines. Looking up the ridges you will see that they join about 3/4 of the distance to the top at which point the single ridge heads the remaining distance to the summit of the mountain, at a point just north of Montezuma Peak. You should walk up the southernmost of these two ridgelines, which was rugged and required the use of hands in several places. You will have to dodge chollas and deal with loose and unstable rocks as you make your way up the steep slope. After the two ridgelines join, you will come to several spots where you'll want to bypass large rock outcrops on one side of the ridge or the other. Some additional hiking and scrambling will bring you to the summit ridge where the walking becomes easier. Turn south (right) at this point and hike along the mountain to the first of two small antennas (which no longer appear to be operational). Passing the antenna, the path becomes rough once more as you drop down a short distance to shallow saddle, and then begin climbing the final pitch of the peak itself. The easiest route to the summit is to continue directly up the ridgeline until you reach a point where you can work your way left into a shallow cleft on the east side of the peak. The cleft will allow you to make your way up to the official summit of Montezuma Peak (identified by a USGS marker which lists the elevation at 4337 feet), and great views in all directions. To get back down you could retrace your steps, or opt for the steep wash, which leads down to the west from the saddle you passed earlier between the antenna and the peak. The wash is basically a steep hillside at first and is covered with loose rocks that demand your full attention. Further down, water has scoured out the canyon to bare rock, making travel and footing less precarious. The gully eventually becomes

HIKE: A Challenge Hike - Estrella MRP - Nipple Peak (PCHC # 6).

REASON FOR CHALLENGE: Difficult route finding and tough scramble to summit.

DESCRIPTION: This hike is a 12 mile in and out hike with an elevation gain of 3100 feet. This hike uses jeep roads and a portion of the Estrella Competitive Long Loop to reach the start of a bushwhack up to the iconic Estrella Nipple Peak. Glorious views await perched at a tiny rocky seat high above Goodyear. From the trailhead follow jeep trails 1.25 miles north until the intersection with the competitive loop. Turn left onto the competitive loop over the saddle until the loop makes its U turn in a southerly direction. At this point leave the trail follow the map and GPX track north. The route crosses 3 or 4 creek beds and climbs a ridge towards the obvious pyramid peak ahead. The route contours around this peak to a high saddle. The route swings north east and climbs steeply up to a second saddle immediately below the rocky summit. The route travels behind this summit rock and steeply through a rock gap up to the small summit. There's no more than enough room for 6 people at the top. Reverse path back to the parking lot.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: Approximately 50% of the hike is trailless. The trailless section is a steep and rough climb ending with a scramble over open ledges to the rocky peak. High clearance vehicle needed.

TRAILHEAD NAME: No Named Trailhead. Refer to Driving Directions. TRAILS: Estrella Competitive Loop

FEES AND FACILITIES: No Park Fee. No Restrooms.
