Question/Clarification

- A Spiritual Awakening donation
- Why is there a deficit in the region? Unsure
- is $3,000 the minimum prudent reserve for CO Intergroup? Yes. Why? Besides it's the history we don't know.

Group reports

-Spiritual Awakening, Julie: changed group funds to help support more towards International Funds. Tim, treasurer, asked for clarification from Dustin about receiving a memo when making a donation from the group.
 -Into Action, Andy: Attendance down due to the open meeting today, however, attendance is strong otherwise. Elections first week of December. Dustin asked for clarification on name of the group so there is consistency with reporting.
 -Happy Destiny, Don: good attendance. New members recently. Will have an open meeting 1 every 4mos starting in 2023.
 -One Day at a time, Doug: steady attendance. A few new members. Hybrid. Confirmed census received. New treasurer needing to happen. Hoping to get
 Pueblo, CS, Blane: No new reports
 Serenity Now, Jeff: 4-8 people/meeting and about 1 newcomer every month in the last few months. Good new location. Submitted census. Holding elections in December. Dustin confirmed who the treasurer is for consistency.
 No Half Measures, Tom: Steady and strong attendance. Elections held recently, little changed. Tom confirmed who the treasurer is and asked if a contribution made recently. Dustin confirmed donations received.

Last Questions:

-have we only ever donated to the region and not SAICO. Andy answered, the group agreed historically that region was the center point as funds trickled up
