SIX LOCAL PLAYERS JOIN ALBATROSS CLUB

A half dozen local golfers recorded a double eagle (also called an albatross) between Sept. 25 and Dec. 2.

In that 68-day span, Al Sinning, Jesse Fortenberry, Scottie Smith, Hunter Frith, Johnny Thorning and Larry Bean all accomplished extremely rare shots. All but two of them were albatross aces, which are among the rarest shots in golf. Experts claim an average golfer has a million-to-one shot to record an albatross. To put this in perspective, only one double-eagle ace has ever been accomplished on the PGA Tour.

The albatross parade got started by Sinning on Sept. 25 as he was playing in the men's group. On the ninth hole at Bay Pointe Golf and Country Club (Brandon, Miss.), he hit a driver 225 yards for the ace. Sinning also witnessed a hole-in-one eight holes later!

On Halloween, Fortenberry also aced a par-4 as his drive on the sixth hole at Quail Hollow Golf Course at Percy Quin State Park (McComb, Miss.) found the bottom of the cup 292 yards away.

On Sept. 8 at BREC's Beaver Creek Golf Course (Zachary, La.), Smith's drive on the par-4 fifth found the hole 310 yards away. Smith was playing with Steve Farmer and Melvin Strotter. It was the first-ever albatross and ace for Smith, who is 40 and resides in Roseland, La.

On Nov. 4, Frith only needed two shots to complete the par-5 second at Southern Oaks Country Club in Abbeville, La. His final shot was from 195 yards with a 6-iron.

Thorning's impressive feat was at BREC's Santa Maria Golf Course (Baton Rouge, La.) on Nov. 11.

His second shot on the par-5 seventh found the hole with a 6-hybrid while playing with Bob Kay, Mike Watson and Rex Ward.

Bean's albatross was also of the hole-in-one variety. His shot was on Dec. 2 at Quail Hollow Golf Course at Percy Quin State Park in McComb, Miss.

The 225-yard drive on the sixth hole was witnessed by Ronnie Bean, Martin Bean and Gary Randall. Larry Bean is 75 years old and resides in McComb.

COVER STORY

MISSISSIPPI COAST TRIO CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Almost anyone planning on a trip to the Mississippi Gulf Coast will have these three facilities on their must-play list: Shell Landing Golf Club, The Oaks Golf Club and The Club at Diamondhead.

Three of the most popular golf courses on the Coast, each has carved out a niche with players all over the South as they all have done a great job of keeping up with the times, putting money back into their facilities and keeping the price right in line to provide great value.

Shell Landing, which is on the east side of the Coast in Gautier, opened in 2000. It is a public course that will cost you between $69-$95 to play. Recent improvements include a beautification of the first tee, filling in of greenside bunker on 18, clearing of trees and a refurbished golf shop.

The course still features its diverse topography and natural waterfront beauty. Shell Landing is also a member of the Mississippi Golf Trail.

The Oaks opened in 1998 in Pass Christian. Since its inception, the facility is known for its majestic timberlands, native wetlands, strategic bunkering, dramatic green complexes and meandering routing. The Oaks is one of the newest courses on the Mississippi Golf Trail. The facility is public with prices between $79-$109.

The Club at Diamondhead just recently celebrated its 50th anniversary, but this isn't your typical facility that is half a century old. Diamondhead, which has always been open to the public since opening its doors in 1971, is the only facility on the Coast with 36 holes. The Pines and Cardinal courses are both featured by CourseScout Virtual Golf Course Tours, which gives viewers detailed drone footage of every hole and green. Diamondhead has always done a great job of keeping up with the times and trends. The yearly range in rates is $55-$85.

Altese makes history with victory

Karstyn Altese (Diamondhead, Miss.) became the youngest competitor to ever win the girls division of the Allstate Sugar Bowl Tommy Moore Memorial.

The 12-year-old recorded rounds of 75 and 72 and then won the sudden-death playoff on the first hole for the title. Altese, who two years ago came in second in her age division at Augusta National Golf Club for the Drive, Chip and Putt National Championships, tied with Morgan Guepet (New Orleans) and Ashleen Kaur (Cypress, Texas) at 147 after 36 holes of competition.

The event was held Dec. 28-29 at TPC Louisiana in Avondale and put on by the Kelly Gibson Foundation.

In the boys division, Ethan Dial (Shreveport, La.) was victorious after shooting a 2-under-par 70 in the first round and an even-par 72 in the final round. Dial also needed a playoff to overcome Michael Croker (Mobile, Ala.), who shot identical rounds of 71. Will Hennessee

Quail Hollow joins MGT

MISSISSIPPI GOLF TRAIL

Just north of the Louisiana-Mississippi state line on I-55 sits a hidden jewel called Quail Hollow Golf Course.

It sits in McComb on the same property as the Percy Quin State Park. From the north or south, take Exit 13 west and then when you get to Hwy. 48, go north (right) and the entrance to the state park will be on your left. After you enter the state park, the entrance to the golf course will be on your right.

Quail Hollow just joined the Mississippi Golf Trail and by doing so will not be one of the best-kept secrets along I-55 much longer.

Opened in 1996 and designed by Arthur Hills, Quail Hollow is a beautiful course that can play as much as 6,754 yards. With its rolling terrain, a variety of signature holes and undulating greens, the facility really does offer the ultimate challenge for golfers of every skill level.

Quail Hollow is a public course and utilizes natural terrain to create unique holes in harmony with the beautiful countryside.

"With the addition of Quail Hollow Golf Course at Percy Quin State Park, the Mississippi Golf Trail now has a nice handful of facilities in the state for visitors to play," Tee to Green Golf Magazine Publisher John Price said. "I think the nine courses currently on the trail are great and I look forward to developing more facilities to join us in the spring in other parts of the state."
