

Speakers Report for June 2025

Last month our speaker, Dr. Amy Barron, an archeologist currently teaching at Fleming College, presented Digger, Teacher, Soldier, Spy. An intriguing and captivating presentation mostly about the Middle East in WWI and the part TE Lawrence (of Arabia) played as an archeologist turned spy. Quite a fascinating bit of history! For anyone interested in seeing more of Amy, she'll be at the Scugog Public Library on June 10th at 7pm, presenting on Archaeology and Agatha Christie. For more info: <https://www.scugoglibrary.ca/whats-on/newsletter/>

Upcoming Speakers

June 11, 2025

Joyce Perrin – Ants in My Pants

Joyce Perrin, a former hospital CEO who, at 57 put her treasures in storage for 23 years and then travelled the world as a solo traveler, has explored 187 countries and territories, following her passion, working for the World Health Organization while embracing adventure and positivity. She has chronicled her experiences in her book, Ants in My Pants – One Woman's Unexpected Adventurers Across Seven Continents. Her books will be for sale at the meeting. Don't miss this presentation, which is sure to be a memorable and enjoyable one!

July 9, 2025

Tom Locke – The Evolution of Rock & Roll

Don't miss this interactive presentation about Stories and Songs of the 50's, 60's and 70's! Tom will delve into the roots of Rock and Roll revealing how it shaped our culture and influenced future generations. It features the playing of some memorable tunes, and we will learn something new about music we know.

Reminder this meeting will be held at the Sandford Community Centre

