Words in the Air

Lyrics by Cindy Olejar

Words communicate,
Sometimes projecting hate.

Let words in the air,
Land softly on the ear.

Listening in the space of words,
Something else can then be heard.

Words communicate,
Sometimes to bait.

Let words in the air,
Land softly on the ear.

Listening in the space of words,
Something else can then be heard.

Words communicate,
Sometimes to manipulate.

Let words in the air,
Land softly on the ear.

Listening in the space of words,
Something else can then be heard.

Words communicate,
Sometimes to inflate.

Let words in the air,
Land softly on the heart.

Listening in the space of words,
Something else can then emerge.

Before words go into the air,
What is really needed here?

Before words go into the air,
What is really needed here?

Before words go into the air,
Come back to being right here.
