From nothingness to infinity, he creates himself. Faced with obstacles, he rises above them. He knows the law and overcomes it with ease. He is a master of the game, playing with everyone. When others have reached their limit, he is just getting started. His ideas are outside the box, and he does not concern himself with pessimistic words that hold him back. The only relationship that truly matters to him is the one he has with God. He makes gold out of dust, with his mind always in motion, even when faced with problems. He has a key that opens all doors without effort, and he never looks back. Failure is not an option for him, and neither is the impossible. With ambition as his fuel, he never stops striving for greatness.

SUCCESS

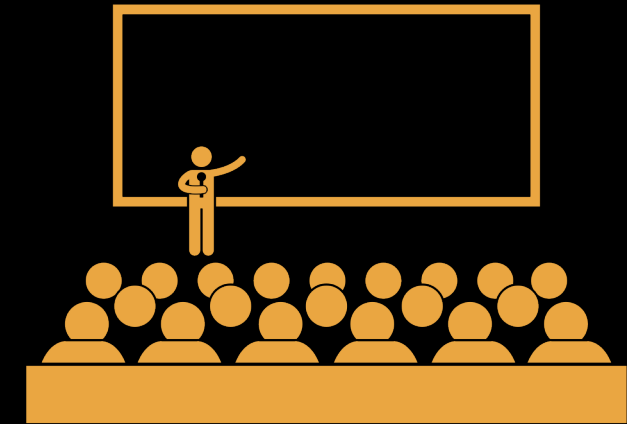

- Investor success story question?
 - Is the investor heartless?
- Does the investor have the right to betray?
- Is it the ability to overcome difficulties?
- Does he choose his work or does fate market its investments for him?
 - Does he have a principle?
 - Is he arrogant?
 - Does an investor sleep?
 - Does he oppress others?
- Which exponent does the investor choose for himself™ and what is its reason?

Are these names essential in the investor's internal dealings when he sits among the community of all investors?
The king - the lion of the forest - the ogre - the monster of the universe - the leader of the hyenas - the first - the hero of the story

WHAT CAN WE BENEFIT FROM AN INVESTOR'S SUCCESS STORY?

1 Introducing a group of projects inside and outside the United Arab Emirates with a group of participating countries and people around the world

2 Signing investment contracts

3 Choose some personalities to benefit from their experiences around the world

4 Distributing awards to personalities who deserve appreciation and respect around the world

Global economic experts from various countries of the world answer the conference's questions

You are on the verge of the end of a continuous success story. My expectations are that you will begin a new life in search of yourself from the moment where every person within him is a global hero of the story. There is no failure in human beings. The only failure is the defeated, the destroyed, the lost, who did not find the steps of the correct ladder to climb above them, or from living all His life searching for a wrong key that will open the doors of happiness for himself and for those around him.

Congratulations to you on reaching the success story of a hero
From today the success story of new heroes around the world begins, waiting for you at the top of the mountain in the second season of our story.
