Stacy - My Genius

My Life's Work · What I'm here to do · Gene Key 11

Your outer life is the greatest mirror of how close you are or how far you are from making your dreams a reality. You have to realise something very important about your mind — the images you have for what you would like your life to be like are symbolic rather than literal. There is no outer circumstance that will fulfil your dreams. Fulfilling your dreams is about bringing what is within you into the outer world, rather than trying to manifest your projection of what you think you want. What matters most is that you never let go of the ideal behind the images. Working out the details of your dream is out of your hands and frankly, unimportant. You must believe in yourself even when others think you are mad. Your idealism is the fuel that drives your life. You must embrace what happens on the surface as an aspect of your perfectly unfolding destiny.

My Evolution · What I'm here to learn · Gene Key 12

Your greatest challenge in life is to learn to discriminate which ideas and ideals can actually be brought into manifestation and which cannot. Deep within you, you have dreams that you want to fulfil, but again and again life will remind you to be realistic about them. This does not mean that you cannot attain your dreams. It means you have to be as honest with yourself as you are with others. Sometimes life takes an unexpected turn, and often this direction change can turn out to be a blessing in disguise. You have a Gift of balancing your dreams with a healthy dose of reality and surrender. You can spend a great deal of time in your head pondering life, and you may forget that you actually have a talent for dealing with real life situations and challenges. You always need this balance between the ideal and the real. Within it lies your awesome power and your unique expression.

My Radiance · What keeps me healthy · Gene Key 46

Our Radiance is about our health, but it is also about more than this. It concerns how we can truly shine in the world. For you, it is about really enjoying your own body. You have to find the balance between revelling in your own sensuality and not actually harming yourself. Yours is not a life of discipline and diet. Your life is about experience, and if you do not open yourself to new sensory experiences, you will shrivel up. Your life is about passion and love. No experience is unimportant for you, even the most mundane. To really glow as you are intended to, you must repeatedly throw yourself into new opportunities with your heart open. If you learn to make all decisions from your heart, you will become radiant.

My Purpose · What deeply fulfils me · Gene Key 25

You carry one of the most powerful archetypes as your Life's Purpose. It is the purpose of love. Because you carry this archetype, you will inevitably be intensely tested throughout the long journey of your life. You will have to understand and accept your own suffering as well as the suffering of others. Your only real agenda in life, if you could call it that, is to retain your sense of innocence and love through all of life's storms. No matter what dramas are on the surface of your life, deep below, within the very essence of your body, lies a hidden power. It is the power of yielding — a state of awareness that you are here to bring to everything you do and everyone you meet. You are a reminder to everyone that the real purpose of existence is love.
