Rosal is the first female to become a Master Rummelier® and one of only 12 Master Rummeliers in the world.

PRESS RELEASE APR 11, 2022 09:00 EDT

TAMPA, Fla., April 11, 2022 (Newswire.com) - 7th Sky Ventures and the Royal Rum Society are pleased to announce that Isabella Rosal has been awarded a Master Rummelier® status, the top professional designation in the rum industry. Rosal is the first female to become a Master Rummelier® and one of only 12 Master Rummeliers in the world.

The Royal Rum Society has awarded the Certified Master Rummelier® designation to Isabella Rosal for demonstrating the highest level of competency by completing 16 course modules on rum production methods, history, tasting, elucidation and variety, touring at least 10 distilleries and tasting a minimum of 200 distinct rums using the Royal Rum Society's™ taste rating system.

Born and raised at a rum estate in Northern Luzon in the Philippines, Rosal collaborates with distilleries across Florida on creating unique single-barrel rums for her clients and partners at 7th Sky Ventures. With her newly-obtained qualification, Isabella is preparing to launch the Tampa chapter member of the Florida Rum Society — a professional community dedicated to sharing and advancing the knowledge of rum making.

The first product that reflects Isabella Rosal's expertise and passion in her capacity as a Master Rummelier will be the limited edition of Battleship 57 rum produced by Gambler's Bay Distillery in Tampa, available in retail in summer 2022.
