

~ How Can We Put Men On The Moon And Not Even Cure The Common Cold? ~ Pt-1

The age-old question.... well... not really.... we didn't have any "cure" for the cold BEFORE we went to the moon, but am not here to begin an essay on that, we are talking about WHY and HOW this SEEMINGLY "little" bug can be so impossible to beat!

There are simple scientific explanations for this.

Many people just think of some unknown monicker bug going by an aka of "The Cold Virus" or some such. While, broadly, that is quite true, the details are where things can only be revealed and placed in a context of what we are all now acutely aware of, and now suddenly are finding all kinds of "Medi-Speak" in THEIR vocabularies as well. Sadly, this result of a simple lack of medical TRAINING leaves MANY in the "dark" as to what EXACTLY all this stuff means, so they begin to try and piece things together.

Difficult in these days of so many wild stories....

Let's stick to facts!

There are, in fact, SEVERAL "species" of virii that induce both cold and flu! Some only flu, others only the cold.

The Rhinovirus and Coronavirus families are the two largest culprits in the arena of COLD infections.

The Influenza and Coronavirus families are the two largest culprits in the arena of FLU infections.

See a familiar name in both? Likely the "SMARTEST" virii of all of these, Corona, particularly, has adapted to it's host (US) REMARKABLY well, and isn't "naturally" inclined, so to speak, to wish to KILL it's host! It's called SURVIVAL OF THE SPECIES.....

How this is accomplished is remarkable. This virii has a "spiked-protein" that most have heard of and all the hoopla is over about getting vaccinated AGAINST this...

But... a PROBLEM...

The BODY CREATES SIMILAR proteins!

All animal studies for Corona vaccinations conducted as precursors to human trials have all been scrapped due to the incredibly high mortality rate caused by Antibody Dependent Enhancement, which is too technical to break down in this first installment.

Food for thought.... this gets much more involved...

Highest Regards and Much Love,

Kevin
