

Three people at different points of the immigrant experience come together when the mother of a ten year old musical prodigy is arrested in an ICE raid.

