THE QUEST FOR THE HOLY CALL

Yes! Follow Arthur King of England, Arkansas, and his fellow sojourners from the moment they arrive in St. Louis for Summer Greek until they speak their fond farewells and depart for their first pastorates. Some won't make it: a few will not survive the late study sessions of that first language class, succumbing to the nights that say "vaid" Others will see their grade point chopped and hacked until they concede that their transcript is more than an academic flesh wound.

Answer these professors three, and you endorsed for call will be.

Uh, okay.

Still, some will survive. Watch them return from vicarage triumphant but wary of the final challenge: crossing the hazardous PEL! For those who remain, one question lingers: who will be called to Camelot, and who will be called to the Parish of Aaaaauuuunnnnnngggghhhhhh?

State your name.
