*The Mountain
Is Calling
Seeking His Face*

SEEDS FROM
SOWER

Michael A. Guido, D.D.
Metter, Georgia

A group of visitors once asked an eighty-two-year-old his age. After answering their question he said, "I'm going to live until I die. And then I'm going to live forever!"

Is it possible that he had Psalm 84 in mind and was reflecting on the words of the psalmist: "They go from strength to strength - or they make their way - till each appears before God."

God expects us to care for our bodies - He created them and entrusted them to us to do His work well. The story is told of two camels who deeply loved their masters.

While carrying their cargoes across the desert one decided that he would eat little so he could save his master money. He soon became weak and disoriented and thieves took advantage of his master when he died - beating him and taking the cargo. The other cared for both his master and his strength. He ate wisely and passed triumphantly across the desert.

We weaken ourselves spiritually by not nourishing ourselves with "soul-food" - God's Word. Because God made us for Himself, we must bring His life into our life through the Word of Life - Christ our Lord. He alone can satisfy the hunger in our hearts and the longing in our souls.

Jesus met these needs when He said, "I am the Bread of Life! No one coming to me will ever be hungry again. And those who believe in Me will never thirst, either."

Age does not matter. Life does. And life begins with the Lord. Believe in Him! He will nourish body and soul.

GOD'S MAILBOX

We hear of heaven's hotline, but what about God's Mail Box? If you have ever felt like one step forward equals two steps back, you are not alone in this. It would appear we all have had those moments when just about the time you think your head will pop out from beneath the waters, about the time you suck in a deep breath, something pushes you back down. This one debt is finally paid. You feel like you can relax a little bit. You open the mailbox. There it is. Another debt. Something you did not see coming. This is the moment you simply have to hold that bill up to the Lord, and say: GOD, YOU GOT MAIL!

I am sure if Heaven had a phone it would not give a busy signal. It would never be taken off the hook. There'd be no blocked calls. I am also certain that God's mail room is completely organized, neat, and nothing is lost in transit. We can call out in prayer, knowing that nothing catches God off guard. He's never had an UH-OH moment! Heaven is not going bankrupt. He owns the cattle on 1000 hills. Guess what else. He owns the hills too. All the earth, and the fullness thereof is His. All the gold. The silver too. Whatever you need. God's got it in abundance! He's the Ephesians 3:20 God. He is the ASK ME FOR IT GOD! Prayer is how it works.

PROVERBS 20:7

Christian Way MINISTRIES

SPONSORED BY REV. GARY TOOLE

Proud to be a Christian. I was watching a little bit of the 21 inch sewage system and I was clicking and I happened up on the Jerry Springer garbage show and a young man was smiling like a mule eating briars and he said that he was gay and was very proud of it. So I thought that he was proud to be a sinner because homosexuality is a sin and yes its in the bible in many places. So I thought about that. You know we Christians let the world stay one step ahead of us. Years ago real Christians carried their bibles almost everywhere they went and now they carry their lap top and cell phone and they proudly say that they have the bible on those gadgets and while that may be true. What else do you have on there too! Think about that! And furthermore we are to be a distinct separate people. An identifiable people. With the real paper bible you are identified but with the gadgets everyone carries them. Call me a fanatic if you want to, but it is something we as true Christians need to think about. Also I did a line of t-shirts with scriptures on them and I had to quit with them because no church folks wanted them. They want to be identified as a Christian at the church but not in the world. They are afraid they might have to take a minute to witness to someone. Oh of course they come with this excuse, Well if you are a Christian you dont have to label yourself! So true but wrong! Spreading the gospel is what we Christians are suppose to do whenever and however we can do it. Back years ago I had a customized tag made that said, I am proud to be a Christian, and I got so much criticism not from the worldly folks but from the church folks. Go figure! You cant! Some folks are so narrow minded that a fly could land on their nose and kick both eyes out so to speak. We need to understand that there is two types of pride. The good godly pride and the evil destructive pride. The one that is in Proverbs 16:18 where the word says that pride (false pride) goes before destruction. That evil pride that satan brought into the world. You see theres good jealousy like God is a jealous God and then the evil jealousy that the word says is as cold as the grave. What we need to get into our noggins is that for everything God has got that is good the devil comes with an evil copy. A counterfeit if you please. Now back to the t-shirts. Have you noticed that the world wears their t-shirts promoting beer and other sinful things and nobody thinks nothing about it and they advertise for satan but yet we so called Christians wont advertise for Jesus. The world says they are proud to be sinners but yet are we true believers in Christ really proud in the right way to be Christians. We should be! But speaking of tags or signs or labels. We dont need them to be evidence against us. Like the woman (I wont call her a lady) that was late for work and she got behind an old man that was going slow and she let her window down and cursed him out and gave him a finger gesture but on the bumper of her car was bumper stickers that said, Meet me in Sunday School, and Honk if you love Jesus! Well the cops pulled her over and ran her tag and they said, Mame the reason we pulled you over is the nasty way you were acting and with those type bumper stickers on the car we thought you were driving a stolen vehicle. So there you go! A leaving thought is this, If you were on trial for being a Christian then would there be enough evidence to convict you? Can you say amen or do you have to say, Oh me!

A Family Journey

June 23, 2025, 6:02 AM - 11:17 AM

To my faithful friends and forever family: most of you know that my family serves our community through Christian radio. I'm a content creator. I'm sharing this in hopes you'll join me for a trip down memory lane. If you know we're in radio, then you know that sometimes I refer to the station and tower as a lighthouse—that light which can never go out—and so it is with the station. Most who know us understand it is our pleasure to help build a stage for others, especially for Abba Father. I prefer not being in a spotlight; it's way too bright for me! How does all this tie together with my cover image? It's the back porch from a trip we took to the mountains a few years ago. Stay with me... ;-)

Not even when the kids were younger and we'd go to the mountains for a Christmas vacation did we really get to focus on just us. The station alarms would go off daily at us—even on vacation. Suffice it to say that being on call 24/7/365 was a challenge getting hubby's mind off work for this one week alone, yet so worth it. As part of local media, we learned from the beginning to enjoy Christmas and New Year's Day off. So, to stretch it out for the week, I started booking a cabin for the whole week each year so we could go to the mountains together with our four little ones. The first time we went, the three girls and I were sitting in the hot tub on the deck just after dark. We settled into all the warmth and majestic beauty which surrounded us up on the mountain when it started to snow—the very first night! Hubby and our son came running out when they heard all the excitement! Locals said it was the first time in a decade it came down like that, but I know that it was a wink from Abba Father. He's so kind that way; He's in the big things, but He's also in the details, as this was a desire of my heart.

Over the next few days, the kids played in the snow with their dad while it lasted and even learned how to ice skate too! Some years, the cabin we rented was out of range for cell phone service. Wasn't that a blessing?! Though at the time, it could be a struggle for any of us on any given day. Still, there was plenty to do together if we just looked—observe, as it were. We usually went to town daily, so the closer we got, cell service resumed. Thank goodness for the sweet release of returning each time to our own place with a game room, which featured a pool table, various games, and usually a wet bar with its conveniences since the game rooms are usually situated in a loft or basement. Always something to venture into, especially when we really engaged by having our meals at the cabin as much as possible. Cooking was a small price to pay for the beauty of family gathered together. I was once told that King David used his table as an altar before the Lord, where he offered blessings all in honor of our Great King, thanking Him continually for everything. Those were really great times.

But now, I hear the call from the mountain once again as my soul yearns to be in the cleft of the rock because I long to see His face, up close and personal. It begins with a journey—much like that of the Children of God; we are grateful for the cloud by day and fire by night where He led daily with His cloud of protection and His Fire by night. We don't need to go to a mountain to see His face. We simply ask right where we stand. That's all there is to it. I've very recently discovered it's not even necessary to carry our baggage to Him. Honestly, it can be so heavy, hard to budge, let alone carry in our own strength. When we ask Him to carry it for us, then, like the loving Father He is, He will reach down lovingly and gently, saying, "I've got it, darling." He'll carry us too! ASK—three little letters with so much weight. If we need anything, we need only to ask.

All Night with the King—The night of prayer that led to the holiest experience of my life—as I sat in my rocker at home on the porch, the night sky seemed to wrap me like a cocoon. The brightly lit cherry tree, a symbol of life's brevity, renewal, and God's light, became a soft glow as I reflected on distant memories with my children—those days of running to the hills to spend time with my own little army and also to connect more deeply with my Abba Father, as I've longed for Him. I was thinking about an acquaintance I recently had the pleasure of connecting with; it was a divine connection. As he prayed for my family, a dove lit right beside him where he was sitting on a park bench—not on the handle or back of the bench, but right beside him. It seemed to look into his eyes and then gently fly away. He knew our families would be friends—we would be friends. What a beautifully divine sign from the Creator of heaven and earth! As my thoughts rolled from one image to another, "Way Maker," performed by Danny Gokey on the White House Lawn in 2018, surged through my soul. Then I heard another song, "You Belong to the Lord," by Project of Love. My mountain image glowed with billows of love as I focused on it. I heard my Abba Father graciously reach down and say, "I've got you, darling. Let me help." I heard Him speak to me, and then He carried me on His wings, continually restoring my health because He comes with healing in His wings, according to Malachi 4:2.

In the morning hours, the trembling, tears, and exhaustion met joy as my shoulders dropped and my neck eased. Laughter broke through—a miracle unfolded! The left side of my airways, closed by Bell's Palsy since 2016, opened wide (Malachi 4:2)! Breathing freely on holy ground where angels stood (Exodus 3:5), I knew Isaiah 53:5's promise: "by His wounds we are healed." Trembling faith had led to prayer answered! I prayed, "Here am I—send me" (Isaiah 6:8), after stepping into a transformational night with the King. Later, because Abba knows I lean heavily on the joy of the Lord as my strength—a Home Alone moment echoed Kevin's "I'm not afraid anymore!" in my spirit (Psalm 18:33). Memories of family—my little army backpack days—resurfaced, reflecting divine order as if to point me to our beloved Commander in Chief and all those who serve under him, from top to bottom, in our nation and the sacrifices made in times past and even now. Trembling persisted, a holy quaking (Philippians 2:12). I prayed, "Gird my legs that I may stand..." (Psalm 18:32), as I sensed the seal of the King's Ring (Esther 8:8). Fear became a foundation of prayer covering all the Angel Armies of the heavens where the Lord of Hosts stands on guard to protect and defend continually (Hebrews 1:14)—a perfect reflection of those military forces who do the same for us in the earth now. As the commander Joshua, at Jericho, was anointed with wisdom and strength, Joshua 6:2-5 states: "And the LORD said to Joshua, 'See, I have given Jericho into your hand...'." God gave the divine strategy, and the walls collapsed miraculously, fulfilling His promise!

A dove swooped by my porch by mid-morning light—peace descended (Genesis 8:11). The Hebrew letter Bet (value=2) revealed my home as a sanctuary (Psalm 93:5), a place of God's presence. His timing affirmed my path (Psalm 32:8). Signs spoke louder than words by now. This night reshaped me, for I had spent the whole night with the King, our Messiah, who continues to be with me and restore me along the Way—even now as I write this trembling before Him.

From family togetherness on the mountain back then to seeking His face now in prayer has strengthened my resolve to worship Him even more. He brings healing in His wings. He will dwell with us, angels encamp round about our homes (Psalm 34:7). It's a gift and a blessing to express His love with intention in our daily comings and goings. Ask to see His face: together as a family and as a nation. Pray for those who lead us and our beloved nation. May our nation rise in unity, healing, and peace, sealed with the King's Ring! May you and all those you love most be blessed in your journey (Psalm 119:105) and may He bless our love for one another as we carry it out to the ends of the earth. God bless the USA!
