

Property Taxes will have risen 23% over the last two years if proposed county budget is approved by the Madison County Board of Supervisors!

Will Durant, the eminent historian and author of the esteemed 11 volume, Story of Civilization, summed up 6,000 years of world history in one sentence, "Government taxing you to death."

Economics by definition is the allocation of scarce resources. And that's exactly how it works for the average family in our country, state, and county— the government level closest to the people. We sit around the kitchen table and figure out how much money is coming in, how much we need to spend and hopefully how much we can put away for a rainy day. We self impose limits on ourselves every year; we have to.

But that's not how government works. Government refuses to acknowledge the law of economics, the allocation of scarce resources. Their ability to create unlimited resources by taxing us is only restrained to the extent of their imagination, which appears to be unlimited. They print unlimited money above and beyond their insatiable appetite, collecting taxes and fees to temporarily satisfy its gastric proclivities. (Income tax, sales tax, fuel tax, property tax, inflation tax (the invisible tax) and then add fees on the services our tax dollars are meant to provide.

April 15th has come and gone; as of now, most of our working earnings for the next 90 days will go only to pay 2024 federal, state, county and city taxes and fees. Let that sink in.

How do we as a people in this county convince the government to live within their means like we do? How can you, the Citizen, the Voter and the Taxpayer affect change at the government level--from the Iowa state house to Madison County? Here is the answer: the Madison County Republicans. Join us and let's get control over our county spending. Vote Republican in the June 4th primary for Republican candidates that will represent the County Taxpayers.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The Madison County Republican Central Committee (MCRCC) mission is to educate and inform the public at large of Republican views on political, economic, and social issues that affect our county Citizens, Voters, and Taxpayers, and to promote Republican candidates that will pledge to support the State and Madison County Republican platforms. Candidates must pledge to govern as fiscal and social conservatives, as well as promise to represent and protect the interests of the Madison County Taxpayers. The MCRCC firmly stands behind the principle of limited government, emphasizing its importance at the county level—the level closest to the people. The MCRCC expects that any increase in county spending must be accompanied by justified reductions in expenditures within the county budget.
