Join the Society of Friends Book Club | Fall September reads.

The Social Society of Friends is loosely a part of Creators, Writers and Readers Society.

Finally, Camp Conference is still looking for the optimal meet space and a [venue gallery] and other viable outdoor sites. This weekend we will meet outdoors. It will be a hot weekend but there's plenty of cool spots for a mid-day retreat. At this meet, we will discuss the upcoming anthology projects; there will be a writing exercise and light movement given for fun and practice preparedness.

In August, we returned travelled trekked to New Orleans and met some potential collaborators who expressed in interest. As soon as we complete those contact inquiries you will learn of our next steps for the continued travel component.

In the interim, still preparing for the writing, language, arts, theater, and performance workshop(s).

Upcoming Camp Conference Discussion: TRACE Calls for Submissions, Fall/Winter and 2023.

Keep at your practice, passion and creating.
