With first aid accreditation a mandatory requirement within every workplace, we believe there is no one better to deliver First Aid Training than our Paramedics. They can offer their expertise in First Aid, enhanced by years of experience in prehospital care.

Save money with ALS Med and take advantage of our Blended Learning packages, giving you access to our E-Learning portal, reducing the amount of time needed for face-to-face training.

Our trainers are all registered with the First Aid Industry Body and Federation of First Aid Training Organisations and have years of experience in training, mentoring & assessing.
