ALL ABOARD THE TURTLE TROLLEY!

Some of our turtles are packing their shells and hopping aboard the Turtle Trolley to brand-new digs!

You may have noticed that the trolley in the gallery is currently under construction. Our turtles are thrilled to announce that work is underway on an exciting new habitat, made possible through the generous financial support and hard work of Enzo Breither & Family, Al Gosselin, Vince & Nicole Sidwell, and William Foreman.

The upgraded turtle habitat will feature an Olympic-sized turtle pond perfect for soaking and swimming, along with two separate land areas. The land areas will feature different substrates perfect for digging, burrowing, and all the other important turtle business. There will also be a walking bridge connecting the two spaces. Climbing terrain and strategically placed rocks will provide easy access to the pond and plenty of opportunities for exploration.

The turtles are eagerly watching the progress and can't wait to stretch their legs, splash in their new pond, and enjoy all the comforts of their upgraded home. Soon, their old tanks will be retired, making way for a much larger and more enriching space designed just for them.

Stay tuned for updates as construction continues!
