

D A R L A

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ELSEWHERE FAIR
YOWIE
226 SOUTH STREET
PHILADELPHIA
JUNE 4-6

FOUND HER! FOUND HER!

N. MASANI LANDFAIR
JASMINE SAKKARAH
MARY ENOCH ELIZABETH BAXTER
omololú Refilwe Bàbátúndé
TANIKA I. WILLIAMS
QUALEASHA WOOD

We hold these truths to be self evident:

The techniques of founding this 250 year old nation-state included but were not limited to hundreds of years of the theft, capture, torture, and sexual violation of African peoples. Black womb/men were bred to produce an increase toward the direct and unimpeded creation of wealth enriching planters stretching from the U.S.A. to South America and the Caribbean. As the global super majority Black and Indigenous femmes continue to both reproduce the labor structure and lead the struggles against the patriarchal war machine's race toward endless accumulation. Either through networked financial systems condensing power between Wall Street and the internet, or the use and abuse of millions of our families from Haiti and Cuba to the Congo and Mpwarente, we have been raped and killed or lived under the threat of unrelenting violence for far longer than anyone can remember.

Against the disturbing and ridiculous historical revisionism of the corny af and absolutely dangerous techofeudalist billionaire class, Black women have been founders, collective and anarchic, organizing liberation from the broken shards of this house divided against itself. We keep the receipts of this collapsing malignancy causing the destruction of our earth home woven tightly between our clenched thighs and fists, bloody from being forced to become the metaphysical thread of this country's monstrous truths. Shouting or whispering the sweet sounds of liberation for all feels like an exhaling flower.

By splitting on our own annihilation, insistent beyond pixelation, we have been here and will stay pop-poppin' these heart broken flows into bejeweled reveries.

The national project of The U.S. Constitution which was always intended to protect a free and fair republic limited in its scope to white rich male landowners is undeniably collapsing under the weight of all its ugly. And like our ancestors taught us to say: God don't like ugly.