

Dear Neighbor,

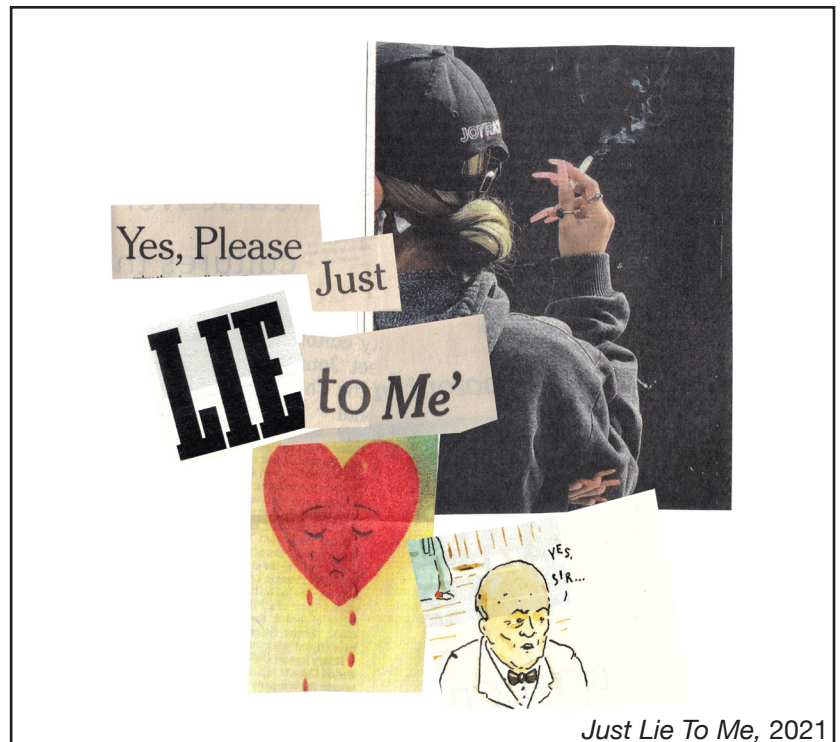

I am curating the experimental exhibition JUST LIE TO ME by the artist Sebastien Pierre @bougieboybash. We are writing to invite our neighbors across Brooklyn and Queens to participate in this semi-public exhibition by temporarily installing art in their street-facing windows.

In exchange for sharing the space of your residential street-facing window for the length of the exhibition, you will receive a unique work of art concerned with the nature of advertising, political representation, and solidarity.

We hope that our community-based art project and exhibition may stimulate dialogue around the overlapping and competing desires for celebrity and social justice in our media saturated society.

To participate or for information,
