

Murals Turn Walls Into Bright Expressions of Personality

January 21, 2021

BY ROBIN F. DEMATTIA
FLORIDA WEEKLY CORRESPONDENT

When jewelry designer Amanda Jaron wanted a home mural, she didn't have to search for an artist. Her daughter Alanna, a junior at Naples High School, has been creative since she was a toddler.

"I never had a problem with my kids drawing on the walls," Ms. Jaron says.

Alanna Jaron took that parental directive literally, painting murals in her bed-room and her bathroom without even asking for permission.

— Alanna Jaron www.alannajeweljaron.com

