The Call to Leave Everything

Obedience

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

There comes a moment in every man's life when God asks him to let go of what is familiar and step into the unknown. Abraham knew that moment. God said, "Get out of your country, from your kindred, and from your father's house, to a land that I will show you." No map. No itinerary. Just a voice and a promise. Centuries later, Jesus — the Son of Abraham — would issue the same kind of call to ordinary men: "Follow me." Levi left his tax booth. Peter left his nets. And the question still echoes to every man reading this today: Will you obey when you cannot see the destination?

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"Now the LORD had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing: And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. So Abram departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him."

— Genesis 12:1-4 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Obedience is the foundation of everything God builds in a man's life. It's easy to say "yes" to God when the path is clear, the paycheck is steady, and the family is on board. But God often calls us forward before the details make sense — a career change, a new ministry, a difficult conversation, a step of faith that feels risky. Men, obedience is not the absence of fear; it is the decision to trust God more than your comfort. In your workplace, obey God's ethical standards even when shortcuts are rewarded. In your home, lead your family toward God's will even when the world pulls in another direction. Abraham didn't know where he was going, but he knew Who was leading him — and that was enough.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a man who obeys God, even when I cannot see the full picture. As a son of Abraham, I choose to walk by faith and not by sight, trusting that the God who calls me will also sustain me on the journey.

PRAYER

Father, I thank You for calling me out of the ordinary and into Your extraordinary purpose. Forgive me for the times I have hesitated, made excuses, or chosen comfort over obedience. Give me the courage of Abraham — the faith to move when You say move, even when I do not know the destination. Let my life be a testimony that You are trustworthy. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Building Altars in a Busy World

Worship

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Abraham was a man on the move — journeying through unknown lands, managing flocks, navigating conflicts — yet wherever he went, he built an altar. Before he built a house, he built an altar. Before he settled his family, he worshipped his God. This was no accident; it was Abraham's declaration that God came first. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, affirmed this priority when He told the Samaritan woman, "The true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth." Brother, in a world of packed schedules, endless notifications, and relentless demands, God is still looking for men who will stop and build an altar.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And the LORD appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him. And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Beth-el, and pitched his tent, having Beth-el on the west, and Hai on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and called upon the name of the LORD."

— Genesis 12:7-8 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Your altar may not be made of stones, but it is just as real. It is the quiet moment before the house wakes up, when you open your Bible and meet with God. It is the prayer you whisper in the car before walking into a hard meeting. It is the worship song you play when the weight of the world presses down. Men, we were not made to run on empty — we were made to run on the presence of God. Build a daily rhythm of worship: morning prayer, Scripture reading, a moment of gratitude at the end of the day. Don't let the busyness of life crowd out the One who gave you life. Your family, your coworkers, and your church need a man who has been with God before he shows up anywhere else.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a worshipper — not only at church, but every day of my life. As a son of Abraham, I will build altars of prayer, praise, and devotion wherever God places me, because He is worthy of my first and best attention.

PRAYER

Lord God, forgive me for the days I rushed past You to get to the world. Teach me to be a man who builds altars — who worships You in spirit and in truth before I do anything else. Let my life be a fragrant offering of praise that rises to You from my home, my workplace, and my community. Rekindle the fire of worship in my heart today. In Jesus' name, Amen.

The Courage to Rescue the Captive

Courage

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

When Abraham received word that his nephew Lot had been taken captive, he didn't form a committee or wait for someone else to act. He armed his 318 trained servants and went after the enemy — at night, outnumbered, into hostile territory. That's the heart of a godly man: he runs toward the battle, not away from it. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, demonstrated this same warrior heart when He declared in the synagogue at Nazareth, "He hath sent me to preach deliverance to the captives." Men, there are people in your life who are held captive by addiction, despair, deception, and sin — and God is looking for men with the courage to go after them.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And when Abram heard that his brother was taken captive, he armed his trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto Dan. And he divided himself against them, he and his servants, by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto Hobah, which is on the left hand of Damascus. And he brought back all the goods, and also brought again his brother Lot, and his goods, and the women also, and the people."

— Genesis 14:14–16 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Courage isn't the absence of fear — it is the decision that someone else's freedom matters more than your comfort. Look around you, brother. There is a young man in your church who is drowning in pornography and shame. There is a coworker who is one bad week away from giving up. There is a son or daughter who needs a father brave enough to have the hard conversation. Godly courage means stepping into uncomfortable situations with truth and love. It means confronting injustice at work, standing up for the vulnerable in your community, and refusing to be a passive bystander when people around you are in chains. Abraham didn't wait for permission — he armed himself and moved. It's time to do the same.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a man of courage, not passivity. As a son of Abraham, I will arm myself with the Word of God and the power of the Holy Spirit, and I will fight for the freedom of those around me who are held captive by the enemy.

PRAYER

Father, give me the courage of Abraham — the willingness to move when others hesitate, to fight when others flee, and to rescue when others look away. Open my eyes to see the captives around me and strengthen my hands to help set them free. Make me a warrior for Your Kingdom, filled with boldness and compassion. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Faith That Looks Up at the Stars

Vision

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Abraham was old. His wife was barren. The promise of descendants seemed like a cruel joke to a man with an empty nursery. But God did something remarkable: He took Abraham outside and said, "Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them... So shall thy seed be." In that moment, God lifted Abraham's eyes from his circumstances to His promises. Jesus, the Son of Abraham and the Author and Finisher of our faith, calls every man to the same upward gaze — to see not what is, but what God says will be. Brother, what has God promised you that looks impossible right now?

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be. And he believed in the LORD; and he counted it to him for righteousness."

— Genesis 15:5-6 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

It's easy for a man to become consumed by what's right in front of him — the bills on the counter, the problems at work, the tension at home, the ache in his body. These are real, and God does not dismiss them. But He also refuses to let them define you. Vision is the ability to see God's promises beyond your present pain. Write down the promises God has spoken over your life and your family. Revisit them when doubt creeps in. Surround yourself with men who will remind you of what God said when the enemy tells you it will never happen. Lift your eyes, brother. The same God who filled the sky with stars is filling your future with purpose. Believe Him, and it will be counted to you as righteousness.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a man of vision, not a man of fear. As a son of Abraham, I lift my eyes above my circumstances and fix them on the promises of God. I believe that what He has spoken over my life will come to pass.

PRAYER

Lord, forgive me for staring at my problems when You have been pointing me toward Your promises. Like Abraham, I choose to look up — to count the stars of Your faithfulness and believe that nothing is too hard for You. Renew my vision, restore my hope, and help me to walk in the righteousness that comes by faith. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Walking Blameless Before God

Integrity

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

When Abraham was ninety-nine years old, God appeared to him and said seven words that should mark every man's life: "Walk before me, and be thou perfect." The word "perfect" in Hebrew means "blameless" — complete, whole, without hidden cracks. This is not a call to sinless perfection but to transparent, wholehearted devotion. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, lived this out perfectly: "Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth." Brother, integrity is who you are when no one is watching — and God is always watching, not to condemn you, but because He loves you enough to call you higher.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the LORD appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect."

— Genesis 17:1 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Integrity is the bridge between what you profess at church and how you live on Monday. It's the browser history you wouldn't be ashamed to show your wife. It's the business deal you walk away from because the numbers don't add up honestly. It's the promise you keep to your child even when it costs you. Men, the world is desperate for men whose private lives match their public testimony. Guard your integrity like a fortress — once it falls, everything built on it crumbles. Be the same man in the boardroom that you are in the prayer room. Confess your weaknesses to a trusted brother before they become your downfall. Walk before God with nothing hidden, and He will establish everything you put your hand to.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a man of integrity. As a son of Abraham, I will walk before God with a blameless heart — the same man in secret that I am in public. I will guard my character as my most valuable possession, because God's name is attached to my life.

PRAYER

Almighty God, search me and know my heart. Expose any hidden thing that does not honor You, and give me the grace to repent and walk in truth. I want to be a man whose yes is yes and whose no is no — a man of my word, a man of Your Word. Build integrity into the foundation of everything I am. In Jesus' name, Amen.

The Patience of the Promise-Bearer

Patience

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Twenty-five years. That's how long Abraham waited between the promise and the delivery. Twenty-five years of hoping, questioning, stumbling, and holding on. God told him he would be a father of nations when he was seventy-five, and Isaac didn't arrive until he was one hundred. The waiting was not wasted — it was preparation. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, understood divine timing perfectly: He endured the cross "for the joy that was set before Him." Brother, if you are in a season of waiting — for a breakthrough, a healing, a prodigal's return, a door to open — know this: God is not late. He is at work in what you cannot yet see.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And the LORD visited Sarah as he had said, and the LORD did unto Sarah as he had spoken. For Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him. And Abraham called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Sarah bare to him, Isaac. And Abraham was an hundred years old, when his son Isaac was born unto him."

— Genesis 21:1-5 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

We live in a microwave culture — fast food, fast internet, fast answers. But God operates on a different clock. Patience is not passive resignation; it is active faith. It is continuing to pray when heaven seems silent. It is continuing to serve when the promotion hasn't come. It is continuing to love your wife and invest in your children when the fruit isn't visible yet. Men, do not make Ishmael decisions — don't manufacture your own solutions when God's timing feels too slow. The promise that comes "at the set time" is always worth more than the shortcut you engineered in frustration. Hold on, brother. Your Isaac is on the way.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a patient man who trusts God's timing. As a son of Abraham, I refuse to run ahead of God or lag behind in unbelief. I will wait on the Lord, and He will renew my strength. The set time for my promise is in His hands, and His hands are good.

PRAYER

Father, I confess that waiting is hard. I want answers now, breakthroughs now, results now. But I choose to trust Your timing over my impatience. Teach me to be faithful in the waiting room of life, knowing that You are working all things together for my good. Give me the endurance of Jesus, who endured the cross for the joy set before Him. In Jesus' name, Amen.

The Hospitality of a Kingdom Man

Generosity

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

It was the heat of the day — the worst time for visitors. Abraham was sitting at the door of his tent, probably resting, when three strangers appeared. A lesser man would have waved them on. But Abraham jumped to his feet, bowed to the ground, and insisted they stay. He washed their feet, prepared a feast, and served them himself. He didn't know he was entertaining the Lord. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, would later say, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Men, generosity is not about having more to give — it's about having a heart that refuses to close its door.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And the LORD appeared unto him in the plains of Mamre: and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day; And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, three men stood by him: and when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground... And Abraham hastened into the tent unto Sarah, and said, Make ready quickly three measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes upon the hearth. And Abraham ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man; and he hasted to dress it."

— Genesis 18:1-2, 6-7 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

In a world where men are tempted to build bigger fences, God is calling us to build longer tables. Generosity starts at home — with your time, your attention, your presence — and extends outward to your neighbors, your church, and your community. Invite a young man over for dinner who doesn't have a father in his life. Open your garage and teach a teenager how to change a tire. Give your morning off to serve at a shelter instead of sleeping in. Men, the Kingdom of God advances through open doors, open hands, and open hearts. Don't wait until you have more; start with what you have now. Abraham served a feast in a tent — not a mansion. Generosity is not about your resources; it's about your willingness.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a generous man — with my time, my resources, and my heart. As a son of Abraham, I choose to open my door, set my table, and share what God has given me, knowing that when I serve others, I am serving Christ Himself.

PRAYER

Lord Jesus, break the grip of selfishness and scarcity in my heart. Teach me to be a man like Abraham — quick to serve, eager to share, and generous without calculation. Open my eyes to the strangers, the lonely, and the hungry around me. Let my home, my table, and my life be instruments of Your hospitality. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Interceding for a Broken World

Intercession

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Sodom was wicked — everyone knew it. Most men would have written it off and walked away. But Abraham did something extraordinary: he stood before God and bargained for the lives of people who didn't deserve mercy. "Wilt thou destroy the righteous with the wicked?" he asked. Fifty... forty-five... forty... thirty... twenty... ten. Abraham was an intercessor — a man who stood between a broken city and a holy God. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, took this mantle to its ultimate fulfillment: "He ever liveth to make intercession for them." Brother, the world doesn't need more critics — it needs more intercessors.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked? Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein? That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?"

— Genesis 18:23-25 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

It's easier to complain about the state of the world than to pray for it. It's easier to post an angry opinion online than to fall on your knees in your living room. But God is looking for men who will stand in the gap — men who will pray over their cities, their schools, their government, and their churches with the same persistence that Abraham showed. Pray for your wife by name every morning. Pray over your children before they leave for school. Pray for your pastor, your mayor, your nation. Intercession is not a passive spiritual exercise — it is spiritual warfare, and it is the most powerful weapon a man possesses. When you pray, you partner with God to change the outcome. Don't underestimate the power of one man on his knees.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am an intercessor — a man who stands in the gap for my family, my church, my city, and my nation. As a son of Abraham, I will not curse the darkness; I will pray until the light breaks through.

PRAYER

Father, raise me up as a man of prayer. Give me the boldness of Abraham to approach Your throne and plead for mercy over a broken world. Burden my heart for the lost, the hurting, and the wayward. Teach me to intercede with faith and persistence, knowing that the Judge of all the earth will do right. Let my prayers shake the gates of hell and open the windows of heaven. In Jesus' name, Amen.

The Test of the Mountain

Sacrifice

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

This is the chapter that stops every father's heart. "Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest... and offer him for a burnt offering." After twenty-five years of waiting, God asked Abraham to give back the very thing He had promised. And Abraham obeyed — rising early in the morning, binding his son, laying him on the altar. On that same mountain range — Mount Moriah, where Solomon's temple would later stand — God Himself would offer His only Son. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, became the Lamb that Abraham's faith foresaw: "God will provide himself a lamb." Brother, the altar is where we discover what we truly worship.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of. And Abraham rose up early in the morning... And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together... And Abraham called the name of that place Jehovah-jireh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen."

— Genesis 22:2-3, 8, 14 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

God does not test us to destroy us; He tests us to reveal what we're made of. Sacrifice means laying down the thing you love most and trusting God with the outcome. For some men, it's a career that has become an idol. For others, it's a relationship, a dream, a financial goal, or a reputation. God is not cruel — He is a loving Father who knows that anything we grip tighter than Him will eventually own us. The altar is not punishment; it is freedom. When you surrender your "Isaac" to God, you discover that He is Jehovah-Jireh — the Lord who provides. He may give it back, as He did with Isaac, or He may replace it with something far greater. Either way, you can trust Him.

DECLARATION

I declare that nothing in my life is more valuable than my relationship with God. As a son of Abraham, I lay my Isaac on the altar — my dreams, my plans, my treasures — trusting that Jehovah-Jireh will provide. I choose surrender over control, and faith over fear.

PRAYER

Lord God, I confess that there are things I hold too tightly — things I have placed above You on the throne of my heart. Give me the faith of Abraham to lay them down and trust You completely. You are Jehovah-Jireh, the God who provides. I surrender my will to Yours, knowing that what I place in Your hands is safer than what I keep in my own. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Guarding the Covenant in Your Household

Leadership

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Of all the things God said about Abraham, this might be the most remarkable: "For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD." God entrusted Abraham with the covenant because He knew Abraham would pass it down. He wasn't a passive father who hoped his kids would figure it out — he was an intentional leader who taught, modeled, and commanded righteousness in his home. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, leads His church with the same intentionality — as a head who loves, serves, and lays down His life. Brother, your household is your first ministry, and your family is your first congregation.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD, to do justice and judgment; that the LORD may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him."

— Genesis 18:19 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Leadership in the home is not about barking orders or ruling with an iron fist. It is about setting the spiritual temperature of your household through your example, your prayers, and your presence. Lead family devotions — even if they're short and simple. Apologize to your wife and children when you're wrong; it doesn't weaken your authority — it strengthens it. Set boundaries for what enters your home through screens, conversations, and relationships. Speak blessings over your children. Pursue your wife with the same intentionality you had when you were dating. Men, the enemy's number one strategy is to dismantle the family — and he does it by getting men to abdicate their God-given role. Do not delegate your spiritual leadership to your wife, your pastor, or your children's school. Take your place, lead with love, and command your household in the way of the Lord.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am the spiritual leader of my household. As a son of Abraham, I will command my home in the way of the Lord — with love, authority, and intentionality. My family will know the God I serve because they will see Him in how I live, how I lead, and how I love.

PRAYER

Father, I repent for every area where I have been passive or absent in my home. Raise me up as the spiritual leader my family needs. Give me wisdom to teach, humility to serve, and courage to set godly standards in my household. Let the covenant of faith be passed down through my family for generations to come. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Living as a Pilgrim, Not a Settler

Perseverance

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Abraham was wealthy, powerful, and respected — he could have built a palace and settled down. Instead, he lived in tents his entire life. Why? Because he was looking for something better: "a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." Abraham understood that this world was not his home. He was a pilgrim — just passing through. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, carried this same conviction: "My kingdom is not of this world." Brother, the danger for every man is not failure — it's comfort. It's the temptation to settle for a good life and forget we were made for an eternal one.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

— Hebrews 11:9-10 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

There's nothing wrong with a nice home, a good career, or financial stability — but there is something deeply wrong when those things become the finish line. Perseverance means continuing to press forward in your faith even when life is comfortable. It means staying hungry for God when you have everything you need. It means not retiring from ministry, from growth, or from spiritual discipline just because you've "arrived." Men, the enemy doesn't need to destroy you if he can distract you. Keep your eyes fixed on the eternal city. Invest in things that will outlast your 401(k) — souls, relationships, discipleship, the Word of God. Run the race with endurance, not just speed. The best is still ahead.

DECLARATION

I declare that I am a pilgrim, not a settler. As a son of Abraham, I will not be seduced by comfort or distracted by the temporary. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus, and I will not stop until I see the city whose builder and maker is God.

PRAYER

Lord, keep me from getting comfortable in a world that is passing away. Give me the pilgrim heart of Abraham — content but never complacent, grateful but never settling. Fix my eyes on eternity and help me to invest my days in what will last forever. When I am tempted to coast, push me forward. When I am tempted to quit, carry me. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Finishing Well as a Friend of God

Faithfulness

INTRODUCTORY THOUGHT

Of all the titles a man could earn in a lifetime — CEO, champion, hero, legend — Abraham received the greatest title any human being has ever been given: "the friend of God." Not servant. Not subject. Friend. That title was not awarded for one heroic moment but for a lifetime of faithfulness — through failures, fears, and fumbles, Abraham kept walking with God. Jesus, the Son of Abraham, extended that same invitation to every man: "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." Brother, this final devotional is not about how you started the race — it's about how you finish. And the finish line is not achievement; it is intimacy with God.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE

"And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God."

— James 2:23 (KJV)

APPLICATION FOR MODERN GODLY MEN

Faithfulness is not glamorous. It doesn't make headlines. It's showing up — day after day, year after year — to love your wife, raise your children, serve your church, do your work with excellence, and walk with God. It's the man who is still praying at seventy the same way he prayed at thirty. It's the father who is still modeling integrity for his grandchildren. It's the elder who still opens his Bible every morning with expectation. Men, the world celebrates the spectacular, but God rewards the faithful. Don't be discouraged by the length of the journey — be encouraged by the faithfulness of the God who walks it with you. Finish well, brother. Finish as a friend of God.

DECLARATION

As a son of Abraham, I declare that I will finish well. I will not burn out, give up, or fade away. I will be found faithful — as a husband, a father, a brother, and a friend of God. When my race is done, I want to hear the words: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

PRAYER

Father, I don't want to just start well — I want to finish well. Give me the grace of perseverance, the strength of faithfulness, and the joy of knowing You more deeply with every passing year. Let my life be a testimony of Your goodness from beginning to end. And when I stand before You, let me hear, "Well done." I want to be called Your friend. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Using This Devotional

This is designed to be used as a monthly devotional for men's ministry meetings. Each month, gather as a group to read the devotional and Scripture together, discuss the main theme, and pray for one another.

Meetings may be simple and conversational:

- Open with prayer
- Read the devotional and Scripture
- Share insights and encouragement
- Close by praying for the month ahead

Between meetings, men are encouraged to reflect on the devotional and apply its message in daily life. Take one month at a time, trusting God to grow faith, obedience, and brotherhood along the way.

Sons of Abraham Men's Fellowship

"And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise."

— Galatians 3:29 (KJV)

Walk in faith. Lead with courage. Finish with faithfulness.
