

The 002nd District CAPS office Wants You

To Be a Beat Facilitator

The Chicago Police Department is asking community residents and business stakeholders to unite efforts to work together to create change, build new relationships and make Chicago safer.

Apply now to become a community Beat Facilitator

What is a CAPS Beat Facilitator? Appointed by the Chicago Police, he, she or they must be a resident or stakeholder that lives or works in the beat. As an unpaid volunteer, the Beat Facilitator strives to make the police-community partnership as effective as possible – serving as a translator or communicator between beat residents, stakeholders and police.
