Teachers Code of Conduct

Inspire, motive and support each student to reach their fullest potential within a safe, happy and stimulating learning environment. Promote the value of progression and achievement by planning lessons that build on the current attributes and level of ability.

Always consider the students physical, motor and psychological abilities by using diverse teaching methods to suit a range of learners, including those with additional learning needs (ALN), whilst implementing the principles of fairness, equality and respect.

Safeguarding of the student's well-being is of utmost importance, treating all students, and their families, with dignity and mutual respect, welcoming everyone equally.
