Age is not aligned with an entrepreneurial career path strategy

UNTIL THIS POINT- SUMMARY

- An entrepreneurial mind is an attitude.
- It may come from genes & family, and it may also be a learned skill
- Entrepreneurs need to like people as you need to work with others to create new things
- Thus, having the right crowd and friend its helpful
- You need seek to be always a better human version of yourself
- You need good habits to nurture your knowledge and mental health
- Be always honest and willing to defend your work.

COMBINATION OF FORMAL & INFORMAL CREDENTIALS

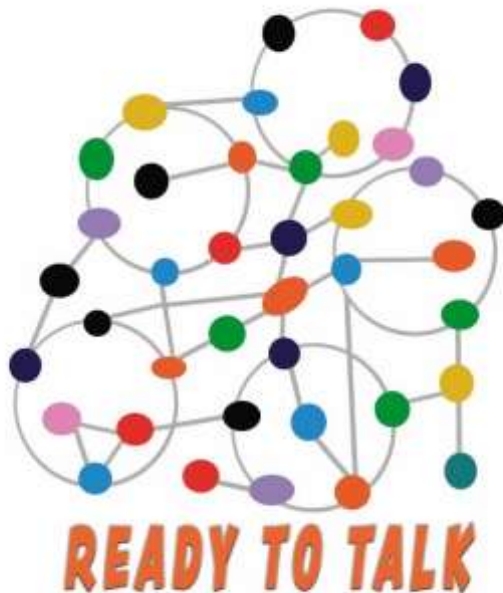

- Thus, its key to have the right credentials (gained academic degree that you can defend the knowledge acquired)
- Its also important to know new technologies such as AI, yet human ingenuity and creativity its another story
- Crafting a balance between formal education, cultural experiences (study abroad, international knowledge), and social skills is key at navigating new uncharted waters

STEPS TO TAKE ACTION

- Be an active student– Participate in students associations
- Seek out internship opportunities (even if they are not directly on your career path)
- Part time jobs may be good, still, its important to have academic success
- Its important to have a balanced student life
- Academic success (and credentials its important), a diploma and evidence of a well–done academic studies might be an example of organization
- Excesses are not good. (doing too much, and not having balance).
- Remember, its not about the destination, its all about the trip, Day by Day

THANKS!- JUST KEEP IT DAY BY DAY
