

PROJECT DIRECTOR FILES
 FINAL ST. CROIX REPORT

Hollis Crowder, Project Director, Danny Hall, Of Counsel, and Wayne Ivy, volunteer

Project Director, Hollis Crowder, has filed the final report on disaster relief for the island of St. Croix. Hurricane Maria utterly devastated the largest of the U. S. Virgin Islands on Sept 20, 2017.

By the numbers:

FEMA funding	$890,000
Volunteers	178
Drawn from	13 states
From St. Andrew's	14
Project duration	6 mos.

Hollis has completed over 30 mission trips throughout Mississippi and surrounding states as well as to Alaska, Africa and Saipan in the Western Pacific. "A little is much when God is in it," he commented on his efforts to spread the love of God.

ASHLEY MASINELLI NAMED KALEIDOSCOPE DIRECTOR

Ashley loves working with kids and various church groups. She also enjoys planning and organizing. She's calling for more volunteers in her mission to prepare the children with a good foundation in Christian values. "It's OK if you're older or don't have kids," she added.

She and Kyle were high school sweethearts in Mount Olive IL. When they moved here, St. Andrew's was also love at first sight — with the pastor, John Kramer, treating them to lunch. Look for them and their two children, Lyla and Andrew, at early service.

JANET RETURNS HOME

Janet Schove was born the same year as St. Andrew's and her parents were charter members. She and her brother Clinton grew up here. Janet has retired after 27 years as a teacher and school administrator specializing in educational technology at the district level.

THE CHURCH THAT CARES

DEAR ST. NICHOLAS,

We really, really need a new van. We take people to church on Sunday. We carry youth on field trips, service projects, and week end retreats. We drive people to and from the airport to go far away with luggage to do missionary stuff. The van we have is falling apart so please, please have your reindeer bring us a new one. My friends Joey and Jimmy said it will only cost $35,000.

*Sincerely
St. Andrew*

We welcome Cliff and Laura McCain to the church family. The couple has three grown children and five grandchildren. Cliff works on campus as a Learning Specialist for the Academic Enrichment department in the Office of Student-Athlete Development. He holds the noses of student athletes to the grindstone. As a candidate himself for a doctorate in higher education, he finds great support in his wife

Laura. Laura is the Reference Librarian at Northwest Community College.

REMEMBERING JAMER HOLLOWELL

Jamer served his country in the Navy during World War II and his church from day one as a charter member of St. Andrew's. Everyone, especially Mary Louise, his beloved wife, will miss him.

CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

Monday, Dec. 24 at 5 p.m.

FUN, GAMES, DOOR PRIZES, MUSIC

All the women of the church, especially newcomers, are invited to a holiday salad lunch beginning at 11:30 a.m. on the second Tuesday, Dec. 11, in our fellowship hall. This is a special annual event in the life of the church, featuring a delicious array of all sorts of salads. The ladies must turn out to win the door prizes, hear the music, and enjoy the festivities.

If you would like a ride to and from the lunch, please contact Beverly at 232 8851.

Operating Budget as of 11/19
