

Leading the Way in Film and Television Industry Health and Safety

Who We Are

Whole Picture Health is the driving force behind a revolutionary transformation in occupational health and safety within the Canadian film and television industry.

Our mission is to not only redefine and elevate industry standards to ensure regulatory compliance but, more importantly, ensure the industry has the tools, resources, and platforms required to optimize efficiency, promote holistic well-being, and propel the industry into a new era of leadership in health and safety.

Why Whole Picture Health

Fast and easy reporting

Reports are completed and submitted within minutes, not days as defined by provincial WCB, WorkSafe BC, Accident on Set and Unions.

Eliminate declined claims

Failure to complete filings within the legally mandated timelines can result in declined claims, and late filing penalties.

Track every incident

All of your production's incidents can be managed centrally from one dashboard, and text or email notifications mean you don't miss any deadlines.

Big Data analysis

Historical claims and incident reporting data is preserved and can be used by production and the studios to provide data analytics to help identify trends and on-set safety concerns.
