How to Use the Goat Milk Intense Moisture Hair Wash/ Cream Bar (s):

Here's the lowdown on how to work your way to fabulous hair:

Step 1:

Wet Your Hair - Make sure to drench those locks with water. Take your Goat Milk Intense Moisture Hair Wash Bar and give it a good rub directly onto your scalp and hair. A little goes a long way! You won't need a-lot. Work that lather through your hair.

Step 2:

Massage Magic - Give yourself a scalp massage to work the shampoo into all the nooks and crannies.

STEP 3:

Rinse, Rinse, Rinse - Rinse your hair thoroughly with warm water until all the suds are gone. Wave goodbye to your hair's old dull days.

Step 4:

Follow up with Our Intense Moisture Conditioner Bar for that Ultimate Intense Hair Goodness. To condition hair; start at the end of your pre-washed hair and work your way up to the base of your head. Although, most slather conditioner all over the scalp; conditioner is actually just meant for the middle to bottom of your hair strands. Adding conditioner to you roots will flatten and make hair limp. If you want volume to your hair, avoid putting conditioner on your scalp. If you are looking to flatten, then slather away!!!!

Acclimation Period for "Waxies":

Okay, here's the deal. When you switch to our amazing goat milk shampoo bars, your hair might go through a temporary phase called "waxies." It's just your hair adjusting to this fantastic new experience. Here are some funny tips and cautions to keep in mind during this period:

- The "Waxies" It's a sign that your scalp is getting used to the natural goodness of goat milk.
- Patience is a Hair Virtue: be patient during the acclimation period. It can take a few washes or a few weeks for your hair to find its groove with the shampoo bar. Trust the process!
- Clarifying Rinse to the Rescue: If the waxies get a little too wild, use a clarifying rinse to restore balance. Mix some apple cider vinegar or lemon juice with water and give your hair a tangy refresh. It's like a zesty detox for your strands!
- Be a Hair Detective: Pay attention to your hair's needs during the acclimation period. It might require more frequent washes or a different routine. Listen to your hair, and it'll guide you to glorious
