GUIDE

A wooden massage tool, possibly a back massager or a hairbrush, with many small, rounded wooden pegs or bristles arranged in a grid pattern. The tool is made of light-colored wood and is shown from a slightly angled perspective, with the handle visible at the bottom right.

Welcome to the new and exciting world of solid hair care and zero waste! You're about to experience a fresh, sustainable way to care for your hair—without the plastic bottles, harsh detergents, or unnecessary waste. If you've got your hands on a pH-balanced solid shampoo bar, great choice!

These bars are specially formulated to match your scalp's natural pH, meaning they're gentler on your hair and require no transition period. Let's dive in!

How to Use a pH-Balanced Solid Shampoo Bar

Wet Your Hair Thoroughly Make sure your hair is completely soaked—this helps the shampoo bar glide easily and lather well.

Lather the Bar (Two Easy Methods):

- Direct to Hair: Gently rub the bar directly onto your scalp and roots in circular motions. You'll be amazed at how quickly it starts to foam!
- Lather in Hands: Prefer a gentler touch? Rub the bar between your hands to create a creamy lather, then massage it into your scalp and hair.

Massage & Cleanse

Use your fingertips to work the lather into your scalp. You only need a small amount—a little goes a long way thanks to the concentrated formula.

Rinse Completely

Rinse thoroughly with warm water, making sure no product is left behind. If needed, repeat for a deeper clean.

Follow Up

Follow up with our solid cream rinse bar if you desire that deep moisture & “slip” when brushing or combing.

Care Instructions to Make It Last

To get the most out of your shampoo bar:

- Keep It Dry Between Uses: Let it air dry completely on a well-draining soap dish or slatted tray.
- Avoid Water Exposure: Don't leave it in direct contact with running water or puddles—it'll dissolve faster!
- Travel Tip: Slice off a small piece to take with you instead of bringing the whole bar.
