Newsletter vol. 9, issue 3

Connecting God's Grace, God's Timing, God's Healing

It's impossible to be complacent after seeing the healing love of Jesus in action! Whether Holy Spirit works within our own minds and bodies, or we hear a testimony of how Jesus brought healing and wholeness to a friend, our faith journey is never the same. We begin to have a brighter hope and a deeper faith in the God through whom all things are possible. Following Jesus as His disciple, in today's world, tugs at our hearts and urges action. At the women's retreat on February 22nd, 65 participants connected with God's grace, God's timing, and God's healing.

Thoughtful questions were posed to the Q and A panel, including what to expect at a healing prayer session, what the process is to become a healing prayer minister, and how to introduce loved ones to this healing experience. At the end, several participants stood up to testify what God had done in their lives during the ministry time. Many thanks to our planning team: Megan Estrem, Judy Winfield, Jen Kiehl-Miller and Lucinda Nelson!

Retreat Testimonies:

This is my first time coming to an LLP women's retreat and I'm grateful. It's been eye opening and in the prayer session, there were a couple of things that popped up that I didn't really know I was struggling with. I admire the strength of the speakers and how real and vulnerable they are; able to live in their true identity. I've struggled with that and am realizing that because of the traumas that I've been through, the walls come up, where you can't totally be yourself because you need to feel safe. I'm grateful for this ministry - being able to be amongst women and feel like we have a place to rest and just be yourself and feel safe. —Anonymous

During ministry time at the LLP women's retreat, I went to two beautiful prayer ministers. They started out with Psalm 139 and were telling me who I am in the Lord. When I went back to my seat and was praying, I felt Jesus close to me, right next to me! He was telling me who I was, telling I was His child, telling me I was loved! And He said, "the enemy has to go through me to get to you". I am definitely coming back for a private healing prayer session to receive more! —Lynn

I'm probably one of the older people here but the Lord is still working in my life. At ministry time during the women's retreat, I went to two prayer ministers because I just needed encouragement. Their words during prayer brought to light how I've been feeling; things I've felt since I was a child. I'm so grateful and want to say that it's never too late to let the Lord heal you! —Irene

It's nice to see adults who are comfortable talking openly to each other (commenting on the speakers and small group time at LLP's women's retreat). I feel like I know a lot of adults who think they're not a man or a woman if they show their feelings to anyone. So, it's nice to see people in communities like this (sharing their struggles and how God helped them). And that helps people like me feel really welcome. —Grace, age 15

I really like these kind of 'still environments' (LLP women's retreat soaking time) where it's just inviting the Holy Spirit and listening for a long time. I love inviting the Holy Spirit in; there is so much He can do by just coming! At youth events, there's an environment after worship where there's this type of 'still praying' and inviting the Holy Spirit, but I don't notice that in regular church services and I wish there was more of that at church in general. —Ava, age 15

At my first healing prayer session at LLP, I went in with no expectations whatsoever. I kind of went into it like an experiment (I'm not a scientist or anything). I wanted to see what would happen; I was very curious. The Holy Spirit took me down a completely different path than anything I could have predicted. For me, it was a topic that came out of the blue, probably because spiritual healing was needed before I would be prepared to tackle some big issues. And as I continue to lean into God's perfect timing (like today at the women's retreat), the blessings keep coming! —Becky

I was intimidated coming to my first healing prayer session and at that first session, nothing really happened. I walked out thinking, "I must be really bad off because God can't even do a work in a prayer session to help me". I was a little discouraged but I got a call later that afternoon and was invited to come back the next day. At that session, there was breakthrough and peace! And since then, there has been enlightenment and healing and there have been relationships healed and blessings. So, sign up for a healing prayer session! —Sharon
