What is a Tier 1 Vendor?

- This is a basic-level trade account.
- These are also known as vendor accounts.
- These rarely ever require a personal guarantee. It just requires a small relationship with the granting business and that there is some mutual form of business conduct being done.
- These accounts will not check your personal score or business score

Important things to know about building your business credit profile with Tier 1 vendors

- Freeze all your personal credit scores before you start building business credit.
- Be prepared to spend on average $100-$300 per vendor for tier one accounts.
- In the process of purchasing and building relationships with Tier 1 vendors when you purchase from them do not pay the invoice immediately, wait until a few days before your terms (not immediately)
- If Tier 1 accounts do not report immediately, continue to purchase and pay based on terms for 3-4 months.
