From Strangers to Champions

The partner tournament last week turned into a story for the ages when Rich Rowell, facing a blind pairing with Scott Blackwood—neither had ever met nor even knew what the other looked like—stepped up to the 9th hole and delivered a moment of magic. With a smooth swing from 162 yards out, Rich watched as his ball sailed, landed, and rolled straight into the cup for an eagle, electrifying the team and instantly securing him the coveted eagle pool and a handful of lucrative skins with a $352 payout, the second large payout two weeks in a row.

That single stroke didn't just pad Rich's winnings; it set the tone for the rest of the round as the newly acquainted duo found their rhythm, ultimately posting a blistering net 59. The unlikely partnership is proof that sometimes the best victories come when you least expect them. For Rich and Scott, what began with a handshake and a question—"Who am I playing with?"—ended with a victory in the partner tournament for the Hogan Division and a story they'll be telling for years to come. BTW, time to pony up another $10 in 2 weeks for the eagle pool.

18th Hole Heroics

In a nail-biting finish in the Nicklaus Division, Jesse Hudson and Billy Winters clinched victory in the partner tournament by the narrowest of margins, edging out Patrick Nolan and Will Trujillo by just one stroke. The decisive moment came on the 18th hole, where Billy calmly drained a birdie putt, sealing the win and turning what could have been a tie into a triumphant finish for the duo.

Birdie Breakthrough in the Woods Division

After 18 tense holes in the Woods Division, three teams found themselves deadlocked at the top, forcing a dramatic tie breaker to determine the champions. With everything on the line, Ed Klopp delivered under pressure, sinking a crucial birdie on the final hole to lift himself and partner Al Miller above the teams of Jibber and Peyton Silver, as well as Justin Grzyb and Mike Sheridan. Their clutch finish turned a crowded leaderboard into a hard-earned victory, capping off an unforgettable day on the course.
