Best Score of the Year

After months of steady practice and near-misses, Ben Collin finally found his groove on the course. Last Sunday, he shot his best score of the year, each drive and putt falling perfectly into place. The satisfaction was immediate, but the day only got better as the results rolled in—he'd claimed one scratch skin and two handicap skins, outplaying the rest of the field with both skill and a bit of luck.

The highlight, though, was teaming up with Tony Lee for the partner event. Their scores was undeniable, and together they clinched the win, sealing Ben's position as the top money winner of the week.

Letting Out the Sand

The second top winner of the week, none other than the notorious "king of sandbagging" himself, Kerwin Laurie, made quite a statement on the course. Still teeing off from the whites, Kerwin proved his reputation wasn't just talk—he stormed through the competition with two scratch skins and added a handicap skin for good measure. The real highlight, though, came on the infamous 8th hole, where Kerwin stuck his approach shot close to claim the prox on one of the toughest holes around. When arriving in the clubhouse members asked Kerwin how did he play and he responded with his usual BS answer of "I don't know, something in the 90's". Right, try a 79.

Partner, Oh Partner - Third Top Winner

Some might assume Tony simply benefited from Ben's strong performance, but in reality, Tony delivered one of his finest rounds of the year. Consistency was crucial in the weekly event, where not only were low scores rewarded, but costly mistakes had to be avoided, given the format of best net on odd holes and worst net on even holes. By the end of the day, Ben and Tony's teamwork and steady play resulted in a perfectly executed round, tailored exactly to the demands of the event.

Did You Hear . . .

Going into the 13th hole last week, Erik Jarmusz stepped up to the blue tee box and sent his shot directly over the flag where it immediately landed and stopped 10 feet from the hole. Then Ed Klopp took his shot that landed far left of the pin but spun the ball to the right, just edging out Erik from the prox. The Ed turned to Erick and said "sometimes it's better to be lucky then good."
