Klippenstein Catches Fire

Mark Klippenstein has been on an absolute tear over the past couple of weeks. As the weather has warmed up, so has his game, and he's turning spring conditions into his personal scoring season. Last week he once again found red numbers on the card, dropping 2 birdies, something that's becoming a familiar sight for the rest of the field. Not only did he stack birdies, he also closed out his match with authority and walked away with the week's top incentive haul.

The hot streak didn't just earn him bragging rights—it vaulted him straight to the top of the Player of the Year race. Mark now sits alone in first place, holding an 8-point cushion over Joe Jasinski and putting the rest of the leaderboard on notice. If he keeps this pace up, everyone else might be playing for second.

Golfers with Multiple Birdies

- 2 - Klippenstein

Incentives

Birdie hole pool has a 4 week carry over and is starting at $275.

Weekly Event

This week's event is a 2 man game where one low net scores are used on odd number holes and both net scores on even number holes.

Incentive Changes

The first change in incentives will be allowed on May 24th for continuing members.

Trending

- Kerwin playing bad enough to stay on white tees. His score last week was higher than his scores on the blue tees.
- Al Miller hobbling towards the white tees

- Ed Klopp playing well enough that he will eventually be on the blue tees sometime this year

Official Ruling

When you find yourself in the situation shown below, how should you play the shot? This exact scenario came up last week in the Blackwood group, and there was some confusion about whether the player was entitled to a free drop.

In this case, there is no free drop. Relief is only granted when a man-made object interferes with your stance or the area of your intended swing, not simply because it is in your line of play.

So, your options are:

- Play the ball as it lies and accept the challenge
- Take a one-stroke penalty and drop the ball either up to one club length laterally, or as far back as you like, as long as you keep the original ball position directly between you and the flag.
