Birdie on Three, Bank on Sunday

Ben was the big winner last week, riding a little good fortune and a steady card to the top of the payout sheet. His birdie on the par-4 3rd took home a scratch skin and the only handicap skin to survive the round, a rare feat that had the rest of the field shaking their heads. He wasn't done there, either. Ben also edged out Dave Wesen on the 4th-hole prox, which stung a little extra given that Dave had already planted his name on all four prox stakes during in the round and was beat out of all but one.

Way to go, Ben — since you ducked out before the winners were announced, there's a nice payout waiting for you Sunday. Bring a bigger wallet.

Weather

Wouldn't you know it — by the time we'd peeled off our soaked layers and pulled out of the lot, the sun came out. That's our weather in May.

We teed off into a stiff wind and temperatures causing hands jammed deep into pockets between shots to stay warm. Classic early-season stuff, the kind of conditions that separate the golfers from the people who only play when it's 75 and sunny.

When we made the turn, the sky decided it wasn't done with us. The drizzle rolled in during the back nine, just that persistent, soak-through-everything drizzle that finds its way under a hat brim and into a glove no matter what you do. A handful of us, myself included, showed up under-dressed for what the day actually delivered, and a small group called it early and headed for the parking lot. Fair enough, everyone draws their own line. But for those who stuck it out and signed a card at the end, that's the kind of round that earns you something the scorecard doesn't show. Reps in bad weather are reps that come July can win golf tournaments down the stretch.

Weather Conditions Reminder

The Board of Directors will signal a stoppage of play by air horn, group text message, or any official notice that the round has been cancelled or paused during play. When any one of these signals is given, all players are expected to immediately stop play, secure their equipment, and exit the course safely.

Conversely, any player who chooses to leave the course on their own while the rest of the field is still playing and no stoppage has been called will be subject to the following:

- Withdrawal from that day's competition
- Forfeiture of all incentives and payouts
- Disqualification from posting a score for the round
- Zero (0) points awarded toward match play and player of the year season standings

These rules are automatic and apply regardless of the reason for leaving. They are documented in the PinSeekers Rules and Competition document on our home page.

Weekly Event

This week's event is a 2 man game where low net scores are used on all holes. Good play wins the event.

Incentive Changes

The first change in incentives will be allowed on May 24th for continuing members.

Kerwin on the white tees? SANDBAGGER!
