WARRANTY DETAILS

A 10-years warranty on a Brass faucet typically covers defects in materials and workmanship for a decade from the purchase date, but excludes normal wear and tear, improper installation, lack of maintenance, use of corrosive cleaners, high water pressure, or commercial use. To claim a warranty, you must provide proof of purchase and contact the manufacturer or a certified service center for the specified product.

What a 10-Year Warranty Usually Includes.

- Materials and Workmanship: The core components of the faucet are guaranteed to be free from manufacturing flaws.
- Residential Use:The warranty typically applies to normal household use.
- Specific Part Coverage: Some warranties may cover parts, finishes, or electronic components for specific durations (e.g., 10 years for parts and finishes, 1 year for electronic parts).
- Proof of Purchase Required: You must retain your original purchase invoice, order ID, or a registered mobile number as proof of ownership.

What a 10-Year Warranty Usually Excludes

- Normal Wear & Tear: Expected degradation from regular use, such as corrosion or rusting, is not covered.
- Improper Installation/Use: Issues arising from incorrect installation or exceeding recommended water pressure levels are excluded.
- Poor Maintenance: A lack of regular cleaning and maintenance, such as allowing debris to accumulate, can void the warranty.
- Chemical Damage: Using harsh, acidic, or abrasive cleaners, including those with naphtha, lye, or acetone, can cause discoloration or cracks and will void the warranty.
- Poor Maintenance: A lack of regular cleaning and maintenance, such as allowing debris to accumulate, can void the warranty.
- Improper Installation/Use: Issues arising from incorrect installation or exceeding recommended water pressure levels are excluded.
- Labor Costs: The warranty typically does not cover the cost of labor for removing or re-installing the faucet.
