

Wheal Grey Ecology Ltd

Who we are: Wheal Grey Ecology is a newly established ecological consultancy, based in Falmouth. We cover the whole of the South West, offering a wide range of terrestrial surveys and ecological advice. We are fully insured, members of CIEEM and committed to providing a prompt, professional and friendly service.

Our Principal Ecologist, Simon Barnard, has 15 years' experience, specialising in terrestrial ecology and protected mammals. Working alongside him is ecologist Matthew Thurlow who is experienced in carrying out PEA's and a range of protected species surveys and ecological watching briefs.

Services we offer include:

- Preliminary Ecological Appraisals (PEAs) for all development requirements
- Extended Phase 1 Habitat surveys
- Bat surveys including: visual surveys of buildings and trees, emergence surveys, activity transects, mitigation design and licensing
- Fully licenced bat ecologists for all development and mitigation requirements
- Further survey work for development and conservation projects including:
  - Dormouse surveys
  - Otter surveys
  - Reptile surveys
  - Badger surveys
  - Bird surveys, etc.
- Biodiversity Net Gain Assessments
- Ecological Impact Assessments (EcIA)
- Watching briefs undertaken by CSCS registered ecologists

Admiralty House, 2 Bank Place,
Falmouth, Cornwall, TR11 4AT

For an informal chat or to discuss a particular project please contact us at:

Website: www.whealgreynecology.co.uk

Email: info@whealgreynecology.co.uk

Tel no.: 01326 761092 | 07773375230

