ISSUE NINE | AUGUST 2026

August has arrived, and anticipation is building!

The leaderboard may showcase the friendly competition, but the heart of Toss the Boss is what happens beyond the bungee platform. Every nomination, donation, sponsorship, and jump represents a community coming together to support people living with the impact of brain injury.

Each year, local leaders step forward with courage, inspiring others to get involved. Their efforts help the Nanaimo Brain Injury Society provide programs, resources, and connection for survivors and families throughout our region.

As excitement builds for this year's event, we celebrate everyone who has already joined the campaign and thank those who continue to champion our cause. Together, we're proving that one brave leap can create lasting impact. Because behind every jump is a story, and every story deserves support.

NBIS: Community Navigator Program

Last year, NBIS's Community Navigator Program supported 273 individuals living with brain injury, and completed 158 new intakes. Navigators help people access resources, complete applications, set goals, and find stability during recovery. Funds raised through Toss the Boss help ensure this vital support remains available in our community.

Thank you to our Sponsors!

Behind every jump is a story

At Nanaimo Foundation, we believe strong communities are built through connection, courage, and showing up for one another. That's why we're proud to support Toss the Boss and the incredible work of the Nanaimo Brain Injury Society.

This year, our CEO, Tracey Brown, is taking that commitment to new heights, literally. In true community spirit, Tracey is stepping up and taking a leap to help raise awareness and support for an organization that provides essential advocacy, connection, and resources for people living with brain injuries and their families. We'll be cheering Tracey on from solid ground while joining local businesses, organizations, and community members in supporting NBIS and the life-changing work they do every day.
