Quarterly Pest Control

Maintaining quarterly pest control service for your home is a smart decision! A few benefits you can expect are:

- Lower routine costs to control pests around and in your home. One time services are typically more expensive and come with limited warranties.
- Each quarterly service comes with a 90 day warranty in case covered pests (see below) return before your next service is due.
- Quarterly services work to eliminate pests before they are an issue to give you peace of mind!

What you can expect and how you can help:

- Quarterly pest control services are due every 90 days! There is a 30 day grace period to provide flexible scheduling options. (Example: if your next service is due in January, your quarterly service price will be honored through the end of February). After the 30 day grace period, your next service will be billed at the initial general pest price prior to your quarterly price being reinstated.
- We will email or send a postcard every 90 days when it is time to schedule. Once you receive your renewal reminder, call to schedule as soon as possible to maintain your service.
- Follow your technician's instructions such as keeping the lawn trimmed, removing leaf litter, or clearing debris from around your home.
- Do not water or run your sprinklers the day we are scheduled to visit.
