Bringing quilting and fiber arts to everyone

JUNE

Hello quilty friends,

A couple of weeks ago, my daughter-in-law told me that she was planning a trip to Branson and asked if I might like to come along. She assured me that Branson had something for everyone. Being a quilter, I was skeptical. I was pleasantly surprised when I walked in the door of Quilts and Quilts, The Fabric Shoppe. Although I had only thirty minutes to check out the shop, it was enough time to discover that this is a really nice quilt shop. The shop was spacious with a broad selection of fabrics and anything else that a quilter might want. Definitely a stop, on my list, to spend more time there when I might visit Branson again.

Speaking of quilt shops, when we meet in June, Oklahoma's shop hop will be in full swing. Although gas prices are high, make plans to shop and support Oklahoma shops during the 1 June through 31 July shop hop. The shop hop is always fun, especially when you invite a friend along, and worth budgeting for.

Don't you agree that Dee is coming up with fun programs? If you are enjoying the programs, let Dee know how much you appreciate her.

Looking forward to a fun meeting and quilt sharing with you.

May 2022 WMQG Meeting Minutes

Guild president, Carol Ann Johnson called the meeting to order at 6:48 pm.

There were five guests (Gary, Sandra, Faye, Linda, Pam)

Program: The program was given before the business portion. The program was Sue Semler giving her Halloween Spooktacular trunk show. She will be giving a spider web class Saturday, May 14th from 9:00 - 3:00 at the First Baptist East portable building. Cost is $35 and this includes a kit. Sign up is due tonight.

May Birthdays were celebrated: Cathy McDanel, Casey Johns, Cindy Shepard

Minutes: A motion was made by Barbara Johnson and seconded by Peggy Coe to approve meeting minutes. All members approved the motion.

Treasurers Report: The Treasurers report was not available.

Old Business: There was no old business.

New Business:

Having another quilt show in 2 years was discussed. A motion was made by Jan Crain and seconded by Lee Diaz that we plan on having a quilt show in 2 years. The motion passed.

An announcement was made that Quilt-N-Bee shop in Cache was having a free small quilt show May 21st. If you would like to show your quilt it can be dropped off at the shop the week before.

Drag and Brag: Members showed their quilts.

Program: The Trash to Treasure quilt was revealed and LaDonna Myers name was drawn to win this quilt.

HOSPITALITY

MEMBERSHIP

Hi guys, your friendly (I really do try) Membership person here. Just a reminder that dues are due. Please bring your dues to the meeting so that I can get the cards ready by the meetings end. This is also your last chance to get at least one more entry for the Trash to Treasure quilt so be there for one chance, wear your name tag for another and bring a guest for three chances. Pretty sure that someone will be taking home this one of a kind quilt. And the lucky winner is...

Cris Ross

May's Program

Sue, located on the left side of the quilt in the picture on the left did a trunk show of Halloween quilts and spider web quilts.

Right is Brian opening a door prize given by Sue. The expression on his face is priceless when he opened his gift of a sweet potato.

Below are just a few of her quilts.

June 13, 2022 Program

Howdy folks, I really enjoyed Sue Semler's program and class. Those of us who took the class had a wonderful time. Most of us even completed 90 % of our wall hanging, I even started another one when I got home. I just love it when an explosion happen in the brain. I sincerely hope you all enjoyed the program too.

Trash to Treasure was sew much fun! I am so excited that one of our guild members has a special quilt from our guild. LaDonna Myers was our TREASURE winner!

That brings us to June... We will discussing BARN QUILTS. I am rapidly learning a lot about them. I will explain some of what I have learn and show you some pictures of BARN QUILTS. If you have already made a barn quilt, I would love to show them off. Please bring it to the meeting unless it is already mounted to you house. I am just amazed with them. I know I cannot wait to paint mine on June 18th. If you signed up for this class, I will have additional info at the meeting for you. Also at the meeting we will be playing a game that requires one fat quarter to play. Everyone please bring one and only one. Just a little fun among friends.
